

NEW PRESIDENT OF MEXICO TAKES OATH OF OFFICE

Portes Gil Says So Long as U. S. Respects Mexican Sovereignty It Will Have No Cause to Complain.

MAKES NO MENTION OF RELIGIOUS LAWS

Promises to Carry Out Policies of Obregon and Calles—25,000 Hear Inaugural Address.

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, Nov. 30.—Emilio Portes Gil took the oath as Provisional President of Mexico today and pledged his administration to a continuance of the policies of the Obregon and Calles Governments, especially in regard to friendship with the United States.

Immediately after being sworn the new President read a brief message outlining the policies his Government will pursue. Approximately 25,000 persons were in the National Stadium to witness the inauguration of the new Chief Executive.

Regarding foreign relations, Portes Gil mentioned especially those with the United States. He said that as long as the American Government continued to show a desire to respect Mexican sovereignty, the American people would have no cause to complain about their Southern neighbor. But he warned that sovereignty "is a point in which Mexico cannot recede or make concessions despite the magnitude of sacrifices that might become necessary."

Praise for Morrow.
Saying that special mention was made of the United States because it is a neighbor and also due to the economic relations uniting the two countries, he added: "Fortunately, the wisdom and patriotism with which President Calles and Antonio Obregon have served their respective countries, have created a mutual understanding which, with all my heart, I desire may continue."

Portes Gil pledged his Government to combat war, "even thoughts of war." He said he would make sure that history would be taught in the schools of Mexico from a pacifist viewpoint. In this connection he remarked: "It would not be thinkable to go against a general program (evidently a reference to the peace program) specially regarding a powerful neighbor."

The incoming President said that Mexico was proud of her hospitality and generosity which had been demonstrated for more than a century, and also proud of her independence. She would not change her policy of allowing foreign workers and capital to come and share the advantages of the land.
He also promised that no prohibited duties would be placed on foreign manufactured articles that did not compete with Mexican industries.

In regard to financial obligation he said the administration would endeavor to comply strictly with them whether they were internal or foreign.

To Continue Obregon's Program.
Turning to domestic affairs, Portes Gil said there would be strict fulfillment of the revolutionary program and a continuation of the work of the Obregon and Calles administrations. He said it must be firmly admitted that the revolution had made errors, one of the principal being the formation of "governments of friends," relegating to second consideration questions of capability and justice in connection with the appointment of officials. He explained that it had been impossible for previous administrations to settle this problem because of unfavorable conditions existing at the time. He pointed out that Gen.
Obregon had his hands full dealing with those who thought that the revolution was merely a pretext for changing leaders.

Despite this Obregon had built a foundation for a realization of the hopes of the Mexican people.

To Serve Nation, Not Friends.
Portes Gil added that "President Calles had done his part by introducing a plan of economy, founding the Bank of Mexico, building roads, and furthering irrigation projects. It would be a task of his administration, he said, to strive to approach even nearer to perfection.
Therefore he wished his Government to be a Government made up of men best prepared. "Men who know how to be loyal to man," he added, "must be replaced by men who know how to be loyal to the country."

Portes Gil said he would not continue on Page 2, Column 5.

AIR MAIL TRUCK HELD UP BY TWO ARMED ROBBERS, WHO FLEE WITH FIVE SACKS

Clerk and Wife in Auto Forced Off Road by Men With Drawn Revolvers—Registered Packages Taken.

Two armed robbers held up the air mail truck at Natural Bridge and Brown roads at 3:20 p. m. today and escaped with five sacks of the daily outgoing air mail, including the registered packages.

Harry C. Graham, driver of the mail car, a postoffice employee, accompanied by his wife, was driving west on Natural Bridge when the robbers, in a blue closed automobile thought to be a Chrysler, came swiftly from behind and forced Graham's machine off the side of the road.

The robbers sprang out of their car with drawn revolvers and ordered Graham and his wife out of the mail car, commanding them to run across a field. They did as commanded.

The robbers then transferred the five mail bags to their car and quickly disappeared, driving south on Brown road.

Graham, who reported the robbery immediately to Lambert-St.
Louis Field, where the mail plane, due to take off with the mail for Chicago at 4:15, said the first three figures on the license plate of the robbers' car were "475."

He said he got only a glimpse of the plate and could not recall the other members.

He had no chance to defend himself because the robbers covered him immediately with their weapons and took his revolver as he got out of the car.

Postoffice officials are making a check to learn what was contained in the registered mail.

It was reported at the Federal Building today that United States Commissioner William E. Atkins was considering tendering his resignation. The Commissioner, when questioned about the report by a Post-Dispatch reporter, declined to comment.

Atkins waived immunity and voluntarily appeared before the Federal grand jury Wednesday afternoon. He learned the grand jury, on Monday, had taken up an investigation of his office initiated several months ago by Department of Justice agents.

The Department agents, making a routine investigation of the Commissioner's office, learned Atkins had two bank accounts, one account showing a considerable sum deposited and withdrawn within a year. Atkins explained that it was fortunate in speculations, but later his luck was bad and he lost the money.

The grand jury has adjourned until Dec. 13. It is understood its investigation is completed and no action has been taken.

Witnesses Before Grand Jury.
Among the witnesses who preceded Atkins before the grand jury were Louis Rose, professional bondsmen, who served a penitentiary term for perjury in making a false statement of his qualifications as bondsmen before Commissioner Atkins; his wife, Mrs.
Freeda Silsby Rose, former wife of Frank Silsby, ex-convict; former Circuit Judge William J. Bloss and Doctor Melges, who were attorneys for Rose, and State Senator Joseph Mogler, who lent money to Rose which he used for financing his defense.

Rose is said to bear a grudge against Atkins because, in preparing his defense, he requested in favor of Atkins which the latter could not grant.

Commissioner Atkins' office is one of the busiest in the Federal Building, and about 80 per cent of his work is in liquidation of the Federal cases which engage his attention are narcotic prosecutions, mail frauds, Dyer act and Mann act cases. He is authorized to issue search warrants, hold preliminary hearings at which defendants are discharged or bound over to the grand jury, issue warrants for arrest, accept or reject bonds and conduct hearings on removal of defendants from one jurisdiction to another.

Appointed by District Judge.
The Commissioner is an arm of the District Court appointed by the District Judge and serves at the Judge's pleasure. Atkins has been a Commissioner for 10 years and for the last five years has been the only Commissioner. There were three Commissioners at one time.

He is compensated by the Government at the rate of $5 a day for each day on which one or more hearings are held. This meant $30 a week for Atkins, who also received several times that much in fees on every paper he drew, including applications for search warrants, bonds and warrants or arrest. The fees, fixed by statute, recently have averaged $800 to $10,000 annually.

Atkins is about 45 years old, and an attorney. Before his appointment as Commissioner, he was, in succession, clerk in a railroad office, clerk at the Old Courthouse and clerk at the office of United States Circuit Court of Appeals at the Federal Building.

DR. A. N. DE MENIL, AUTHOR, LITERARY CRITIC, DIES AT 79

Descendant of Auguste Chouteau, Co-Founder of St. Louis, Succumbs to Sudden Heart Attack.

STUDENT OF HISTORY AND WROTE POETRY

Served in City Council and on World's Fair Board—Funeral From Residence
Monday at 2 P. M.

Alexander Nicolas De Menil, author, historian and literary critic, died last evening, of heart disease in his home at 3522 South Thirteenth street, a pillared mansion dating from Civil War days. He was 79 years old. The fatal attack came a few hours after he had enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner with his family.

The funeral will be held from the residence at 2 p. m. Monday. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery.
Surviving members of the family are Mrs. De Menil, formerly Miss Bessie Bacon and a son, George S.
De Menil, an older son, Maj. Henry N. De Menil, having died.

Dr. De Menil, as he was usually called because of his scholarly and honorary degrees, was a native St.
Louisian and a great-grandson of Auguste Chouteau, co-founder, with Pierre LaCade, of this city in 1764.

His father, Dr. Nicolas N. De Menil, was a native of France, a physician and part owner of the first successful chain of retail drug stores in St. Louis. His mother was Emily Sophie Chouteau, a daughter of Auguste Chouteau, a son of Auguste Chouteau, co-founder,
1764.

He was elected as a Democrat to the House of Representatives in 1877 and served in the City Council from 1879 to 1883. In 1893 his name was placed before the Democratic city convention for the nomination for Mayor, but he was not chosen.

Dr. De Menil served as a member of the board of directors of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, and was vice-chairman of the committee on history, the chairman being Pierre Chouteau. He was founder and president of the Society of St.
Louis Authors, and was honorary president of the Societe Francaise de St. Louis, and of the Shakspear Ter-Centenary Society.

In 1934, he founded The Hesperian, which until recent years continued as a magazine of literary effort, criticism and historical discussion. Its circulation was wide and select, rather than large, and its editor was brought into acquaintance with some of the chief figures of American literature.

He wrote poetry—two volumes of his verse were published—but much of his most earnest effort was given to historical research, particularly into the history of St. Louis and the Louisiana territory. He was a vigorous controversialist, and disagreeing as he did with most of those who have written about the early history of St. Louis, he did not hesitate to call some of their statements "romantic and ridiculous fictions."

Studied Ancestral Records.
He was a tireless student of the Probate Court records and the archives of the Old Cathedral here, and of the historic St. Louis Cathedral in the French Quarter of New Orleans. On his study of these records, he based his conclusion, announced in 1921, that his great-great-grandmother, Mme. Marie Therese Bonzege Chouteau, had been labeled by the "alleged historians" who had represented her as having left her husband and contracted a civil or common-law marriage with Pierre LaCade.

Mrs. Chouteau's eldest son, Auguste, from whom Dr. De Menil was descended through his mother, was undisputedly the so-called Chouteau and her lawful husband, Rene Chouteau.

He is survived by the widow, his mother, a brother, Dickson Cook, and a sister, Mrs. Carl Horst, formerly the widow of Edward L. Pretori, who was publisher of the St.
Louis Times.

Cook was a graduate of Harvard College, New York, and became president-treasurer of the wine company five years ago. He is survived by the widow, his mother, a brother, Dickson Cook, and
a sister, Mrs. Carl Horst, formerly

ELLIS W. COOK INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT, DIES

Son of Maker of Cook's Imperial Champagne Alone Near Staunton, Ill., Wednesday When Hurt.

Ellis Wainwright Cook, 5783
Lindell drive, president-treasurer of the American Wine Co. and successor in that position to his father, the late Douglas G. Cook, maker of Cook's Imperial champagne, died at Barnes Hospital early today of injuries suffered early Wednesday morning in an automobile accident four miles south of Staunton, Ill., on State Highway
No. 4.

Cook, who was 35 years old, left his home Tuesday morning for a hunting trip with friends near Mount Olive, Ill. He started home alone in his car early Wednesday morning.

At 2:30 a. m. Wednesday John H. Schild, instructor in the Gelbenbeck Lutheran school four miles south of Staunton, was awakened by a noise at the front door. He and Mrs. Gehlenbeck admitted the caller, Cook.

Mrs. Schild told a Post-Dispatch reporter today that Cook explained he had been crowded off the road by another automobile which forced his car into the ditch. He appeared not to be injured, he said, although he complained of a pain in the chest. He called Mrs.
Cook by telephone, and at 4:30 she arrived at the Schild home, with a physician whom she had brought by automobile from St. Louis.

A cursory examination failed to disclose any major injury, but Cook prepared to leave for home with his wife and the physician he collapsing. An ambulance was summoned and he was taken to Barnes Hospital. An autopsy will be made to definitely fix the cause of death.

Cook was a graduate of Harvard College, New York, and became president-treasurer of the
wine company five years ago. He is survived by the widow, his moth-

KING GEORGE IMPROVES, BUT DANGER IS NOT PAST

Third Doctor Called to Consult With Court Physicians — Inflammation Found to Be Lessened.

PROGRESS MUST BE SLOW, SAYS REPORT

Medical Authorities Optimistic, but Point Out Age of Patient and Seriousness of His Illness.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Nov. 30.—"The condition of King George shows no change this evening," said the bulletin issued at 8:30 p. m. by Sir Stanley Hewitt and Lord Dawson of Penn.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Nov. 30.—King George's condition showed some improvement today, but it is not thought that he is out of danger as yet. An official bulletin issued by his physicians early this afternoon stated:

"The inflammation of the lung and pleura shows some improvement. The temperature is slightly lower. The time of possible exacerbation of the infection, it must be noted, has not yet passed, and in any case, progress must be slow."

This bulletin was posted after a prolonged visit by Sir Stanley Hewitt and Lord Dawson of Penn., the King's physicians, in which they called a third eminent physician, Sir Humphrey Rolleston, into consultation. All three signed the bulletin. The alarm which the calling of Sir Humphrey might naturally have caused was headed off by a simultaneous semi-official statement saying that the King was a little better all around today, and the regular bulletin when issued, confirmed this earlier communication.

Doctors Study Case Carefully.
The doctors took their time reviewing carefully the whole possibility of the case, its present aspects and its possible and most likely developments. Consequently their usual bulletin was given out nearly two hours later than customary.

The information that there has been some improvement in the condition of the inflamed lung and pleura and a little recession of the fever caused much gratification, but it was noted that the bulletin ended with the precaution that the malady had not yet passed the stage where aggravation of the infection would not be possible, and made clear to the public that in any event there could not be a rapid convalescence for the King, since progress necessarily must be slow.

Sir Humphrey reached the palace after Lord Dawson and Sir Stanley had been with the King about the house. Sir Humphrey is a new figure among the advisers in the present illness, has won a high place in the medical profession and holds a number of important positions in Great Britain. To members of the medical profession his name is especially remembered in connection with that of Sir Clifford Allbutt as joint editor of "A System of Medicine," in 11 volumes.
Since his appointment to a Cambridge professorship, he has relinquished much of his work in London and now lives in Cambridge.

Large Crowd Outside Palace.
While the three doctors made a consultation at the Palace Sir William Joynton-Hicks, the Home Secretary, arrived.

There was an exceptionally large crowd outside Buckingham Palace when today's bulletin was posted, owing to the long delay, the reason for which had not been circulated generally. The anxious watchers eagerly surged forward to read the statement, and there was much relief at the cheering announcement of improvement with which the official bulletin opened.

The Medical Journal, official organ of the British Medical Association, in an article in today's issue on King George's illness, took an optimistic view. It pointed out, however, the natural anxiety of the profession because of the King's age (he is 63 years old) and the serious nature of the illness. The Journal said, in part:

"Our study of the bulletins, including temperature records up to the time of going to press, leads us to infer that the force of the infection is gradually spending itself and with the maintenance of the patient's strength, we may look for a favorable issue, though early and dramatic signs of improvement are unlikely."

After the physicians left the palace it was stated that the fact that the Enterprise being expected here

It was stated in an authoritative

The Prince attended an infor-although manifestly in the best of health, he appeared careworn and preoccupied and took a very unob-

He dined with Lady Cameron, wife of the Governor, and two or three others, and then returned to the Government House. It was understood he declined an invitawishing to avoid festivities as

LACKING RADIO, SHIP NEARBY DID NOT AID VESTRIS

Mate of Tramp Montoso Tells of Sighting Liner at Sea on the Day Before
She Sank.

WRONG POSITION MISLED RESCUER

Giorgio Ohlson 35 Miles From Sinking Vessel Made Search for Her in Vain.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—An American tramp steamer was only six miles away from the liner Vestriss when it was listing heavily on the afternoon of Nov. 11 and was only 45 miles away two hours before the Vestriss sank the next day, it was testified at the Federal hearing into the Vestriss disaster today.

Despite its nearness, however, the tramp steamer did not know of the Vestriss' need for assistance as it carried no wireless.

George Frederick Harrison, first mate of the American tramp Montoso, was the witness who gave this information. He was put on the stand in an effort to determine whether there should not be a law to force ships of such size—3109 tons—to be equipped with wireless.

Harrison said that the nearest Montoso, which is a ship of the New York-Porto Rico line, came to the Vestriss at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of Nov. 11. At that time the Montoso was drifting with a disabled steering gear and the Vestriss, with engines shut down and water pouring into her hold, was listing heavily.

A full gale was blowing and apparently the lookout on the Montoso saw nothing in the position of the Vestriss to call for investigation, and the Vestriss made no attempt to communicate by signals.

The Montoso drifted all night while repairs were being made and at noon the next day was 45 miles from the place where the Vestriss sank two hours later. The tramp got under way a few minutes later and continued its course, unaware that the Vestriss had sent out an SOS call two hours earlier, and that ships much farther away were rushing to the rescue.

After the tramp's first mate was excused United States Attorney Tuttle, who is conducting the inquiry, said that according to wireless reports submitted by Capt. Luther Martin Overstreet of the battleship Wyoming, one of the rescue vessels, the Italian steamer Giorgio Ohlson, was even nearer to the Montoso than the Vestriss at the time of the distress call.

It was shown that the Giorgio Ohlson, which did carry wireless, was only 35 miles from the Vestriss at 10 o'clock, the morning of Nov. 11, picked up the SOS and went to the rescue. The first position given by the Vestriss was wrong, however, and the Giorgio Ohlson never did find the true position of the sinking ship.

ENGINEER FOR RAPID TRANSIT SURVEY HERE TO STUDY FLOOD

Recently Chosen to Study Flood Problem, Will Be Quarantined With Officials.

Rudolph Kelker Jr. of Chicago, recently selected engineer of the Municipal Transportation Survey Commission, visited St. Louis today to acquaint himself with the work of the commission. He conferred with Mr. J. Russell, chairman of the commission; F. J. Salomon, chairman of the Board of Public Service, and said he would call on as many other members of the commission as possible.

His primary purpose, Kelker told reporters, was to "get acquainted with the employers" and learn what work they contemplated. He announced that the first task would be to conduct a preliminary survey for determination of the exact basis of procedure. This should be done immediately, he added, and if legislation is shown to be needed, it can be presented to the coming session of the Legislature in intelligent form.

SENATORS' CAMPAIGN EXPENSES

Edwards of New Jersey Used $7760
But Lost Contest.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Contributions of $7760 and expenditures of $7760 were reported today by Senator Edwards (Dem.) of New Jersey, in his unsuccessful campaign for re-election. Felix Hebert (Rep.), Rhode Island, and Representative Connally (Dem.), Texas, who won their Senate contests, reported no contributions and no expenditures.

Senator Kendrick (Dem.), Wyoming, who was re-elected, reported no contributions and expenditures of $2000. Frederick C. Walcott (Rep.), Connecticut, who was elected, reported contributions of $3000 and expenditures of $63.

Killed in Crash at Crossing.
BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Nov. 30.—Howard Ludwick, 35 years old, of Lemont, was killed when his truck was struck by a C. & A. passenger train at Lemont early today. The engine of the train was derailed, but the crew was not injured.

Model Testifies in Rothstein Murder

MRS. RUTH KEYES, a Chicago clothing model, went to New York voluntarily to testify before the grand jury investigating the killing of Arnold Rothstein, wealthy gambler. She attended a drinking party in the hotel room where Rothstein later was shot. She identified George McManus, charged with the murder, as having invited her into the room. She also identified the picture of another man as having been in the party. He is being sought by police.

KING IMPROVED BUT DANGER POINT HAS NOT PASSED

A third doctor had been called in did not mean that the King was worse, but that both Sir Stanley and Lord Dawson felt it desirable to have a third opinion and a review of the whole course of the King's illness.

The doctors examined in detail all the data and records which have been kept of the King's illness. The temperature charts, radiographs and the results of the bacteriological examination conducted by Dr. Howard Whitby last week were investigated and discussed by the three doctors, who wished to make a review not only regarding the past and present stages of the illness, but also regarding the immediate future. This was interpreted as meaning that they desired as far as possible to foresee what the next stages might be.

A high authority at the Palace this afternoon said that the King was slightly but distinctly better today, although at this stage of the illness the possibility of a setback could not be ignored completely. The King has not yet reached the stage when it is possible to say that he is on the high road to recovery without the danger of a change for the worse.

Making Good Progress.
Physicians' bulletins from the bedside of King George were generally regarded today as indicating that he was making as good a progress as possible at the present stage of his illness. Hope for recovery was perhaps stronger than at any other time since it became known how serious the King's condition was.

The King, however, was regarded as not having turned the corner yet, for it was recognized that the restoration of the tissues of the lungs from a healthy condition would be a matter of several days. What might be taken as a sign of the growing confidence of the public in the King's improvement was the removal of the report of his illness from the leading column by two morning papers. The stories on the King, while still on the front page, were given somewhat less space than before.

Physicians' Bulletin.
The bulletin of the King's physicians, Sir Stanley Hewitt and Lord Dawson of Penn, issued at 8 p. m. yesterday, said:

"The King had a quiet day with some sleep. Otherwise his condition remained unchanged."
The Lancet, a leading English medical journal, today said the return of high fever last Sunday inevitably resulted in sleeplessness and discomfort and the public was warned that a further spread of pleurisy might be expected. Up to the present, however, there had been no change while a certain amount of rest was enjoyed by the King and this was of great importance.

Reading the bulletins as showing a reduction of infection, the paper concluded "at the same time it would be idle to pretend that an illness of this kind is not serious for a patient over 60."

Not a Sudden Attack.
The Lancet also dispelled the idea that the King's illness occurred as a sudden attack.

MAID HELD IN JAIL AFTER THREATS IN ROTHSTEIN KILLING

Witness Asks for Protection After Identifying Occupant of Room Where Gambler Was Shot.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Mrs. Bridget Fahey, a chambermaid at the Park Central Hotel where Arnold Rothstein was fatally shot Nov. 4, today was held in jail here at her own request. She said she had been threatened because she had identified George McManus, charged with Rothstein's murder, as the "George Richards" who occupied the room where Rothstein was shot.

The county grand jury is expected to complete its consideration of the homicide angle of the Rothstein case today, and the Federal grand jury investigating reported connection of Rothstein with a narcotics syndicate is expected to finish its task at the same time.

Mrs. Ruth Keyes, a Chicago cloak model, who visited the room where Rothstein was shot a few hours before the murder, was a witness this week before the county grand jury.

Two Other Women Testify.
Two women have testified before the Federal body, the gambler's widow, Mrs. Caroline Rothstein, and Gertrude Ward, a former show girl. In accordance with the law which shrouds grand jury sessions in secrecy, their testimony was not made public.

Rothstein was shot on Nov. 4 and died two days later. The first arrest was made Tuesday of this week when McManus, who had been sought in vain, surrendered and the grand jury heard his plea of immunity if he would prove that he was not the actual slayer and would tell who was.

McManus, a gambler whose coat was found in a hotel room where Rothstein was shot, was held without bail on a charge of murder. The others held are "Nigger Nate" Raymond, a gambler, and Sidney Stager, Rothstein's secretary. All are held as material witnesses.

Two Men Out on Bail.

Without definite indications of possible guilt, McManus can be held on the short affidavit on which he was arrested only until today, but the District Attorney expressed no fear that he would be released. If the necessary evidence is not at hand at the moment, or if it is not desired to make it public so soon, it is indicated that District Attorney Banton will ask the grand jury for immediate indictments, thus obviating the necessity for a formal court hearing to decide whether the gambler should be held longer or released.

The hearing of the affidavit charging McManus with suspicion of the murder of Rothstein was adjourned today until Wednesday, at the request of the District Attorney and with the consent of counsel for McManus.

The adjournment was sought on the ground that the grand jury had not completed its investigation. Shortly after McManus' hearing was adjourned, "Tough Willie" McCabe, one of Rothstein's agents, who had been sought in vain to testify before the grand jury, surrendered and was held in $10,000 bail as a material witness.

McCabe was questioned early in the investigation by District Attorney Banton, and satisfied Banton that he had been out of the city when Rothstein was shot.

A few minutes after McCabe was held, Meyer and Samuel Boston, brothers, appeared to testify before the grand jury. They also were held as material witnesses. Bail of $10,000 each was set. Thus the number of material witnesses in jail or at liberty under bail rose to nine.

CAULFIELD SPENT $3015 IN CAMPAIGN, REPORT SHOWS

Governor-Elect's Chief Expenses
Were Contributions to State Committee and Clubs.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 30.—Governor-elect Caulfield spent $3015 in his primary and general election campaign for Governor of Missouri, exclusive of his personal traveling expenses and hotel bills, according to an expense account filed today with the Secretary of State.

The principal items listed by Caulfield were a contribution of $1500 to the Republican State Committee and six contributions to local clubs, totaling $1465. Caulfield did not list contributors to his fund.

Attorney-General-elect Stratton Sharrel of Jefferson City filed an account showing expenditure of $2350, chiefly for printing, advertising and clerical service. He paid an assessment of $500 to the Republican State Committee, and listed one contribution of $500 from his father, C. M. Sharrel of Neosho.

After personal friendship in appointing assistants. He would select the most capable men. These must devote all their time and attention to the country, must serve the cause and not men and must abide by all the principles of the revolution. Their private life must conform to the discreet regulations that Government officials were obliged to observe due to their close connection with the masses of the nation.

Mr. Calles, Government, he announced, would adhere to Article 27 of the Constitution—the article referring to oil and land problems—and also to Article 23—the article referring to labor laws.

Freedom of expression whether oral or written, including the full right to criticize the President would be respected by the Government.

He promised that the State would take no part in the presidential election of next year to choose his successor other than to guarantee equal rights to contending factions. He hoped that rival candidates and parties fully understood that it was the vote of the people that they should strive for, and that they should do so by stressing ideas and principles and not by stirring up violence. "This," he added, "will mark a new path in our electoral practices."

Only the establishment of solidly-rooted political parties with a definite program and fixed opinions could separate politics from the administration and prevent the State from becoming the elector, he said.

Promises to Labor.

Portes Gil also promised that continued efforts for the betterment of the condition of workers would be made. Such betterment would assure an increase in production and in the industrial development of the country as well as the intellectual and economic progress of the people. It was imperative to go on distributing small parcels of land to peasants in order to create a free and prosperous farming class.

The religious problem was not mentioned in the address. Portes Gil took the oath of office on a huge wooden platform erected in the middle of the stadium. On it were seated the retiring president, members of Congress, government officials, Supreme Court Justices, diplomatic representatives, governors of states, and military chiefs from all parts of the country.

The ceremony took the form of a joint session of Congress, with Deputy Mayor Calles presiding. The deputy administered the oath of office.

ASSAULTS LAW BY WHICH BOOTLEGGER GOT LIFE

Group Challenges Validity of Michigan Habitual Criminal Statute.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LANSING, Mich., Nov. 30.—Decision day in the Michigan Supreme Court is scheduled for Tuesday. The possibility that decision in the Fred Palm case may be forthcoming at that time lends interest to the importance of the date, in that the constitutionality of the State's criminal code with its habitual criminal section is virtually at stake.

The Palm case attracted nationwide attention. Palm, a Lansing bootlegger, was sentenced to life in the penitentiary by Judge Leland Carr in Ingham County Circuit Court at Lansing for illegal possession of a pint of gin, Sept. 29, 1927. Under the Michigan prohibition law, possession of liquor is a felony, and under the habitual criminal section of the State's new criminal code, conviction of a fourth felony makes a life sentence mandatory upon the Court.

Additional interest in the decision arises because of the sentencing Wednesday at Flint of Channie Tripp, 37 years old, to serve a life term, on conviction of possession of three quarts of whisky; the conviction bringing him into the classification a fourth offender under the criminal code. All his previous convictions were for violations of the prohibition laws.

Palm came to be known in editorial reference in newspapers throughout the country as "Michigan's pint of gin lifer." Palm, whose right name is Steve F. Paulicki, is a former Toledo, O., man and was arrested for a misdemeanor offense in 1917. His first serious offense, however, was committed in Lansing, Aug. 7, 1914, when he was sent to Jackson Prison for store larceny, for from one to 15 years. He was discharged two years later. In February, 1919, he was arrested for raising currency, faced a Federal court in Detroit and was sent to Leavenworth in May, 1920.

His next appearance on local police records was in August, 1924, when he was sent to the County Jail from Lansing for liquor law violation. In 1925, he was sent to Jackson Prison for violation of liquor laws. While early in his career, he served prison sentences for more serious crimes, six of the "felonies" charged against him were liquor law violations—either sale, transportation or possession.

The Michigan criminal code, with its habitual criminal clause, was passed two years ago by the Legislature. In the fall of that year it became effective and Palm was the first man to be arraigned in the State under its provisions.

A number of organizations in various parts of the country interested themselves in his case. A campaign was put on in Detroit by a New York State organization to raise funds for his defense. Last summer Palm appealed to the State Supreme Court, attacking the constitutionality of the criminal code. Pleas were heard last month and while there is nothing definite about the appearance of the decision in any case to that court, it is considered likely that the decision will be forthcoming next week, when the court holds probably its last "decision day" before the State Legislature convenes in biennial session, Jan. 1.

CONFESSES KILLING NORTHOTT ON RANCH IN CALIFORNIA

Northcott, Being Returned From Canada, Says Nephew Aided Him in Mexican's Murder.

DENIES SLAYING THREE OTHERS

Previously Had Stated He Burned Head of Boy but Refused to Admit He Did Killing.

By the Associated Press.
BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Nov. 30.— Deputy District Attorney Earle Redwine of Riverside County this morning wired authorities that Gordon Stewart Northcott had made a complete confession of the slaying of an unidentified Mexican youth on the Northcott ranch, near Riverside.

Northcott was said to have told the officers that Sanford Clark, his 15-year-old nephew and principal accuser, aided him in the murder. He then told how he had burned the head of the ranch and had taken the body to Puente, Cal., where he buried it. Northcott previously admitted mistreating the Mexican youth.

"I am happy, now that I have said it," Northcott was quoted as having said.

Denies Other Murders.

The confession came by degrees as officers were bringing North-cott from British Columbia, where he was captured several months ago. His first admission, made last yesterday, was that he had burned the head of the youth at the ranch and buried the body at Puente, Cal., but he declined to say who killed the boy.

Although his captors questioned him thoroughly they failed to elicit from him any admission that he slew three other youths named as murder victims returned from him and Mrs. Sarah Louise Northcott, who is said to be his mother. Mrs. Northcott is being held in Calgary, Alberta, pending extradition.

At one time, officers said, North-cott voiced an inclination to "take the blame." In the past he was said to have expressed fear over the fate of Mrs. Northcott, when he generally refers to as "my dear little mother." Officers have attempted also to get him to admit that Mrs. Northcott is not his mother, but thus far they have been unsuccessful.

Nephew Made Charges.

Northcott indicated that he had knowledge of the existence of the other three boys named as his victims: Walter Collins of Los Angeles, and Louis and Nelson Winslow of Pomona, all of whom disappeared many months ago. He told officers that he feared Collins never would return alive, but that he felt that the Winslow boys were safe.

It was the disclosure of young Clark, who told authorities that the Northcott ranch in Riverside County was a "murder farm," that led to Northcott's arrest.

Young Clark told investigators that Mrs. Northcott and her son forced him to take part in the slay-ing of one of the boys. Bones and bits of clothing uncovered at the ranch convinced investigators that fire and quick lime had been used to destroy bodies of the victims.

MAX ROSEN, VIOLINIST, WEDS
NINETTE GUILFORD, SINGER

He Began Musical Career at 15 and She Made Debut in Metropolitan at 18.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Max
Rosen, violinist, and Miss Nanette Guilford, opera singer, were married last Friday.

Miss Guilford made her debut with the Metropolitan at 18 in 1912. Rosen's talent lifted him from the East Side to a concert at Carnegie Hall 10 years ago. He is 28 years old.

They met at a reception three years ago, and have studied music together two hours a day since.
For about eight months they have been engaged, but Mrs. Rosen's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs.
Julius Guttmann of New York, wanted them to wait a while.

Rosen had two engagements in New York this month, one in Carnegie Hall as a soloist with the conductors orchestra, the American Symphony Ensemble. His engagements began in Europe when he was only 15.

Nanette Guilford began in musical comedies and was singing at 13. The day after her marriage she was singing the part of the celestial wife. Her greatest success has been in the opera "Turandot."

Rosen was soloist with the St.
Louis Symphony Orchestra a few years ago.

toire, Marie Pelagie and Marie Louise Chouteau," he wrote,
"should not have placidly accepted popular rumors and ungrounded beliefs fostered and recorded by ignorant closet historians, who, instead of consulting official documents and records, gave forth barefaced falsehoods, smirched the character of an honorable, respectable and unordinarily gifted woman, and cast the odium of illegitimate descent on 1500 or 2000 respectable and in many cases prominent persons."

The Naming of St. Louis.

Dr. DeMenil's polemic was received with interest, but has not changed the view of some careful students of local history, who have continued to accept the "legend," denounced by him. They have agreed with him, however, in his insistence that St. Louis was named, not directly for the canonized King Louis IX of France, but for his unsuitably descendant, Louis XV. St. Louis was the patron saint of Louis XV, and in those days a man was honored by honoring his patron saint—hence the name selected and insisted upon by La-cledde, who wished his new settlement to have the royal favor.

When descendants of Auguste Chouteau, in recent years, raised the claim that he, and not Lacledde, should be honored as the real founder of St. Louis, Dr. DeMenil, though himself a descendant of Auguste Chouteau, attacked their argument. He pointed to Chou-teau's journal as stating distinctly that he acted for, and under, La-cledde, in bringing the party of first settlers here, and said that the attempt to take the chief credit from Lacledde was "preposterous." The first settlers, he insisted, were not Frenchmen, but were chiefly Canadians and Creoles from New Orleans. This was recognized in the title of Paul Beckwith's book, "Creoles of St. Louis," with which book, however, Dr. DeMenil disagreed on so many other grounds that he called it an "abominable" work.

His Books and His Home.

Three of his books represent the study of many years, of the literary history of St. Louis and Missouri, and of the Middle West.
These are "Literature of the Louisiana Territory," published in the World's Fair year, 1904; "A Century of Missouri Literature," 1920; and "St. Louis Book of Authors," 1924. In the second work, in defining the term, "Missouri Author," Dr. DeMenil said that mere birth or temporary residence in the state did not suffice; that a Missouri author is one of whom this state has more claim, as to environment, than any other state.

His home, on the crest of the Arsenal Hill of Civil War memory, was and is, a repository of antique furniture and art objects. Among the family portraits, the place of honor is held by the likeness of Mme. Chouteau, "mother of St.
Louis," whose name Dr. DeMenil so vigorously defended. The library contains rare old editions of the classics. The chandelier in the old-fashioned French double parlor is the same which once hung in the old Chouteau mansion on Gratiot street. The chandelier has been remodeled for electric lights, but the candlesticks are as they were when they helped to light the reception in honor of Marquis de Lafayette, more than a century ago.

Oaks environ the house, which is now surrounded by industrial and business buildings. Dr. De-Menil declared, in recent years, that he would not yield to the encroachments of business, but that probably a change would be inevitable after his death. The downtown office building owned by Dr. De Menil and bearing his name is at the southwest corner of Seventh and Pine streets.

Dr. De Menil, years ago, wrote out a list of names to guide his family in selecting pallbearers for his funeral. From time to time he marked small "D's" after the names to designate deaths. The list included the names of Louis

RECOMMENDS INQUIRY IN NORTH SIDE RAFFLE

Retiring Grand Jury Urges Action on Feature of Boosters'
"Household Show."

A recommendation that the next grand jury make a thorough investigation of a raffle conducted in connection with a North St. Louis household show was recommended today by the retiring grand jury, which reported it had not had time thoroughly to go into the situation.

The lottery to which the report refers is that of the North St.
Louis Boosters, a group of business men who annually hold a household show and conduct an extensive lottery.

"Our attention," the grand jury said, in its final report, "was directed to alleged violations of the law involving lotteries and gift enterprises. In one instance evidence was introduced regarding a transaction in North St. Louis.

"It seems that under the guise of being a 'household show,' ostensibly given under the auspices of a community association, tickets were sold throughout the city and elsewhere. These tickets were numbered and later prizes were distributed by lot to those holding the numbers drawn.

Police Efforts Unavailing.

"The prizes consisted in part of a bungalow advertised as worth over $20,000, automobiles, and other 'valuable gifts.' This project is alleged to have been conducted by a very few men, who are said to have realized thousands of dollars in profits.

"Inquiry developed a strange situation. For though this is an annual affair, and has been operating for several years, the efforts of the Police Department to stop it, have been unavailing. Legal obstructions in the way of adverse legal opinions and temporary injunctions have prevented effective action.

"In the limited time at our disposal, we were unable to develop sufficient evidence to warrant action. But ample revelations were made to warrant this grand jury in asking, and we do urgently request and recommend that the next grand jury be instructed to investigate the matter from where this grand jury left off, and, if the evidence warrants, to censure in their report those responsible for the legal obstructions, and furthermore, to indict, if basis for that action appears."

For Law on Disabled Drivers.

On the subject of automobile accidents the grand jury remarked that one of the cases considered by it involved a fatality in which a driver suffering from a nervous order, had lost control of his machine during an epileptic seizure.

"With this deplorable fatality in mind," the grand jury concluded, "this body would suggest that the next legislature erect in the form of statutory law, reasonable safeguards minimizing the hazards of the public from the menace of automobiles driven by disabled drivers, whether the disability is caused by physical or mental affliction."

The grand jury also devoted a portion of its investigation to bomb attacks perpetrated in connection with the activities of extortionists, but reported that since the Police Department had not completed its investigation of the situation it was unable to take definite action.

Seguenot, F. E. Miltenberger, Capt.
Joseph Boyce, Judge John H. Terry, Fred P. Bacon, Gen. John B.
O'Meara, William C. Breckenridge and Judge Shepard Barclay, are marked "D." Others on the list are Marc Seguin, French Consul in St. Louis; the Rev. Dr. George R.
Dodson, Judge O'Neill Ryan, Isaac H. Lionberger, Richard Spamer, Dr.
Arthur E. Bostwick, Lee McIwether and James H. Maguire.

T. F. RYAN IN WILL CUT OFF SON WITH TWO SHIRT STUDS

Allan A. Long Estranged From Father—Most of Vast Estate to Others of Family.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The will of Thomas Fortune Ryan, capitalist, leaves most of his vast estates to members of the family, but only two pearl shirt studs to Allan A.
Ryan, the son from whom the traction magnate became estranged several years ago.

"I give and bequeath my pearl white shirt studs to my son, Allan
A. Ryan," said the will.

This, except for a provision that Allan was to have third choice in the event that members of the family sought to purchase the same art objects, was the only direct reference to the man who went into bankruptcy after the Stutz Motors corner in Wall street.
Ryan, who died Nov. 23, leaving an estate estimated at between $200,000,000 and $500,000,000, made two charitable bequests. One was a $50,000 gift to a New York branch of the Fathers of the Blessed Sacrament; the other was a trust fund sufficient to yield $3000 for maintaining the Thomas F. Ryan scholarship at the University of Virginia.

Ryan made numerous bequests to servants at his three residences in New York State and Virginia, and to employees who had helped him in the administration of his vast interests.

Estate Divided Into 54 Parts.

The testament, a document of 33 typewritten pages, filed today, directed that the residuary estate be divided into 54 parts and distributed as follows:

(A) Twelve parts in trust for Glendennia J. Ryan, a son, who is to receive the income for life and upon his death the principal is to be divided among his children, who, however, are not to receive the principal until they reach the age of 30 years.

(B) Twelve parts to John B.
Ryan, a son, with the same provision about his children.

(C) Five parts are to be divided by the trustees among the children of his deceased son, Joseph J. Ryan.

(D) Similar provision is made for the children of his deceased son William K. Ryan.

(E) Eight parts are to be divided among the children of Allan A. Ryan.

(F) Twelve parts to his widow, Mary T. Ryan.

The trustees are directed to pay to Mrs. Ryan so much of the income of these 12 parts as are necessary to support her. The surplus is to be divided into 42 equal parts.

$50,000 for Business Secretary.

Herbert H. Vreeland, his business secretary, receives $50,000 for "unending loyalty and marked ability" in handling the magnate's affairs.

To the University of Virginia go oil paintings of the founders of the Virginia company. The pictures are at the Ryan estate, Oak Ridge, in Virginia, the State of which Helen M. Seely, the financier's secretary, receives $5000 and life income from a $100,000 trust fund.

House servants of at least five years' service at Oak Ridge, Sur-fern, N. Y., and Fifth avenue homes of the millionaire were remembered with $1000 bequests, while other servants get $500 each.

Miss Cornelia Fortune, a cousin living in Nelson County, Va., and Henry Randall, a chauffeur, each receive $2500.

The will established New York as Ryan's residence, a fact that is expected to yield the State many millions in taxes.

The financier provided that precious art objects in his residence should be sold by the trustees at face value and that the widow and the sons should have the first right to purchase.

The Ryan horses go to Glendennia Ryan.

18 PERSONS IN BUS ARE OVERCOME BY MOTOR FUMES

Driver, Stopping at Warrenton, Discovers Passengers With Heads Bowed as if in Sleep.

Gas fumes from the exhaust pipe of a large motorbus early today overcame 18 passengers of the Pickwick-Greyhound stage line riding from Kansas City to St.
Louis. Sixteen of the passengers were revived at Warrenton, Mo., 60 miles west of St. Louis on Highway No. 10, and two were treated at hospitals.

A strong fall wind is thought to have forced the fumes back into the bus as it sped along.

The chauffeur, in a separate compartment, had no suspicion that anything was amiss until he pulled into the bus station at Warrenton for a 15-minute rest period.
He snapped on the lights in the passenger compartment and alighted to open the doors. He found his passengers sitting with heads bowed as if asleep.

Doors and windows were thrown open and the half-conscious passengers were assisted to the ground. In the open air all revived quickly except Herman Mork of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Earl Brown, 10 years old, of Kansas City.

Mork was hurried to St. Joseph's Hospital in St. Charles and the boy to Shriners' Hospital in St. Louis, in private ambulances. They were not in serious condition later today. The other passengers returned to the bus and proceeded to St. Louis.

The motorbus was of the newest parlor car type and had been in service but a few days. C. L. Potts, district passenger agent here for the company, said his Chicago superiors had announced that exhaust pipes on the busses would be changed immediately to run to the front of the cars.

THREE VESSELS READY TO AID DISABLED BRITISH FREIGHTER

By the Associated Press.
VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 30.— Fears regarding the safety of the British freighter, Chief Maquilla, in distress 2000 miles west of Fern in the Pacific Ocean, were removed today when the Canadian-American Shipping Co. owners of the craft, were advised that the Japanese freighter Montreal Maru was alongside at the British freighter Atlantic City and the Japanese steamer Yogen were standing by.

ALBANIAN SLAYER SHOT TO DEATH AT TRIAL IN PRAGUE

Newspaper Man and Interpreter Also Wounded by Servant of Brother of Murdered Envoy.

By the Associated Press.
PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Nov.
30.—Alchibade Bebe, Albanian student who assassinated Zena Bey, Albanian Minister at Prague and brother-in-law of King Zogu of Albania, was shot to death today at the opening of his trial. His assassin was a servant of Zena Bey's brother.

Before the slayer could be seized, an Italian newspaper man was wounded seriously and the court interpreter and a spectator suffered less serious injuries.

The courtroom was thrown into consternation by the tragedy. The assassin, fired six shots at his victim, the first of which killed Bebe.
Other shots struck the correspondent of Giornale d'Italia of Rome and Dr. Leturba, the interpreter.

Crowd Tramples Jurymen.

At the discharge of the bullets, which the police later said were dumdums, the throngs in the court scurried wildly to the doors.
In an effort to make possible the assassin's escape, several Albanian kinsmen fired shots into the air, adding to the panic. The Judge leaped from the bench and two jurymen, seeking to escape, fell headlong on the floor. One injured his shoulder, and the other was trampled by the terrorized spectators.

Ordered to Kill Diplomat.

The assassin, who is 32 years old, opened fire just as Bebe was relating how and why he had assausinated Zena Bey. Bebe told the Court that he belonged to an Albanian terrorist organization in Jugo-Slavia which ordered him to destroy Zena Bey under penalty of being shot himself if he failed to carry out the order. He declared he was provided with money and munitions by the organization.

At this juncture, the Italian newspaper man, Adrian Delvechio, asked the interpreter to instruct the witness to speak louder so he could record his evidence clearly.

While this was going on, the assassin pushed his way through the crowded courtroom, brandishing a revolver, and fired at Bebe, who fell dead. Delvechio and the interpreter both in the line of fire, were wounded.

"I have avenged my master's death," he shouted.

NEW ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUN AIMS ITSELF, FIRES SEVEN MILES

Target-Locating Device Keeps Weapon Trained on Plane Until It Is Brought Down.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—New anti-aircraft guns which automatically locate the target, follow it until they score a hit and cease firing when the plane is brought down were described yesterday by Maj.
W. C. Young, ordinance officer of the Sixth Corps Area.

"The greatest advances in military science since the war have been made in anti-aircraft artillery," Maj. Young said. "Longer range and greater rapidity of fire, with no decrease in mobility are features of the new weapons."

He showed pictures of guns which he said shot from three to seven miles into the air and operate automatically in conjunction with target-locating devices, re-changing aim as rapidly as the target moves.

The new machine guns have twice the range of those used during the war, he said, and are no heavier.

"MUM" SHOW TILL SUNDAY

The annual chrysanthemum show at Shaw's Garden, which opened early in November, will continue through Sunday, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily. George H. Pring, horticulturist of the garden, announced today.

So far approximately 70,000 persons have visited the Japanese garden designed for the show of the floral display house and it is expected that 80,000 will have viewed the exhibition when it closes.
About 2000 attended Thanksgiving day.

brother in the true Albanian fashion," shouted the assassin.

Gani Bey, brother of Zena Bey, was arrested with three other Al-banians, charged with connection with the crime. Their capture resulted in the knowledge that the servant who killed Bebe was named Ziu Vuceterna.

Bebe fired two shots into Zena Bey's back as he was seated in a cafe in Prague on the night of Oct.
14, 1927. The Minister died on his way to a hospital. Bebe then calmly handed his revolver to a waiter, surrendered his passport to a policeman and was taken away without resistance. He explained he had killed Zena Bey because he thought the Minister intended to betray Albania to Jugo-Slavia.

The slain diplomat belonged to one of the most prominent of Albanian noble families and was known as an advocate of "the Balkans for the Balkan people." He was generally credited with seeking to promote closer relations between his country, Jugo-Slavia and Czechoslovakia.

JOHN GIANNOLA HELD IN KILLING OF PALMISANO

Man Who Left City After Slaying Last April, Arrested as Suspect on Return to St. Louis.

John Giannola, brother of Vito Giannola, slain leader of a gang of Italian murderers and extortionists, himself a former wealthy wholesale grocer, who has been accused by police of being a member of the gang headed by his brother, told Chief of Detectives Kaiser today after he had been arrested at Fourth and Washington avenue, that he had paid at least $100,000 in extortion money to rival gangsters during the eight years he had dealt in groceries and illicit liquor in St. Louis.

Giannola recently has been operating a fruit business in Alton.
He was picked up by police on one of his infrequent visits to St. Louis today and is held as a suspect in the murder of Charles Palmisano, Italian merchant, who was slain last April after refusing extortionists' demands for $15,000.
Giannola also said that a gang of extortionists on the East Side recently had made demands upon him for $10,000, threatening to kill him if he refused to place the money at the intersection of two roads near Alton. He has not complied with the demands, he said.
Giannola, who left St. Louis permanently after the Palmisano killing, says that he is now a respected citizen of Alton and offered the Alton police as witnesses to his good character. He says he belongs to two civic clubs, and contributes $25 each year to the Police Association of Alton.

MAN LEAPS FROM MCKINLEY BRIDGE INTO MISSISSIPPI

he discarded before he jumped contained demands for money from various loan companies.

LEAGUE SENDS OUT INQUIRY

By the Associated Press.
OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 30. — The Department of External Affairs has received an inquiry from the League of Nations asking if Canada would agree to a meeting of the council of the League elsewhere than in Geneva.
The message stated that the health of the German Foreign Minister, Gustav Stresemann, might make it impossible for him to go to Geneva. Premier MacKenzie King has the question under consideration. The same inquiry has been sent to all members of the Council of the League.

TWO MORE DEATHS FROM MOTOR CARS; YEAR'S TOTAL 183

Caesar J. Gambini, Struck by Taxicab Last Night, and Miss Susan Hunt Die of Injuries.

Caesar J. Gambini, 65 years old, a butcher, died at city hospital today of a fractured skull suffered last night when he was struck by a taxicab while attempting to cross Olive street at Garrison avenue. Gambini lived at 2228 Osage street. His death brings the total of motor vehicle fatalities this year to 183, as compared with 124 during a like period of last year.

Wiley Jones, driver of the taxicab, and witnesses said Gambini apparently became confused and stepped into the path of the machine. It skidded on the wet pavement when Jones applied the brakes.

Accident Verdict.
A coroner's verdict of accident was returned today in the case of Miss Susan Hunt, 53 years old, a milliner, residing at 2715 Cottage Hill avenue, who died yesterday at city hospital. She was struck Wednesday by an automobile operated by Mark A. Renick, 2946 De Tonty street, in front of 1227 Washington avenue.

The city hospital certified Miss Hunt's death was caused by heart disease and pneumonia, which followed her injury. The verdict exonerated Renick, who was pulling out of a parking space when Miss Hunt stepped from the curb in front of his machine to board a street car.

Four persons were hurt early yesterday due to machines skidding on the wet pavement and overturning.

Patrolman Martin Eckrich, attached to the Eighth Police District, and Mrs. Mary Kupersmith, 65, 2808 Wyoming street, were riding in Eckrich's car on the Jefferson avenue viaduct at 7 a. m. when the machine collided with a concrete light standard and overturned after skidding.

Eckrich suffered fractured ribs and internal injuries and Mrs. Kupersmith was cut and bruised. Loren Hagert, 4525 Westminster place, suffered a fractured skull, and Miss Fern Renick, 2715 Bayless avenue, received a fractured collar bone when Hagert's machine skidded into a tree in front of 126 West Koeln street at 2:10 a. m. and overturned.

Glenn Tyler, 4216 Chouteau avenue, suffered fractures of the right arm and leg, and Forest Wesley, of the same address, a probable skull fracture at 2:45 o'clock yesterday morning when a machine driven by Tyler collided with a truck, which had been left standing in Manchester avenue at Barron avenue while the driver, Vernon Lowe, 217 Convent street, discussed the details of a previous collision with the driver of another machine.

Mrs. Virgil Creech, 5041 Cates avenue, suffered a fracture of the foot and injuries of the legs at 9:45 o'clock last night when she was struck at Olive street and Vandeventer avenue by an automobile the driver of which left the scene.

In reporting the injury Mrs. Creech charges the driver with "calling her down" for stepping into the path of his machine. A half hour later Charles Gralle, 6902 Bradley avenue, surrendered at the Laclede Avenue Police Station and said his machine had struck Mrs. Creech.

Archie Godare, 1015 Geyer avenue, suffered concussion of the brain and injuries of the arms and legs at 1:20 o'clock this morning when he was struck by a speeding machine as he alighted from a street car at Broadway and Geyer avenue.

The driver of the machine, which was traveling at a speed estimated by witnesses at 60 miles an hour, failed to stop.

BACK-YARD ROW OVER CHERRY TREE ENDS IN FINES

Mrs. Mary Brody Alleged of Have Attacked Sam Kaufman When He Tried to Trim Tree.

Mrs. Mary Brody was fined $20 and Sam Kaufman $25 by Police Judge Beck Wednesday as a result of a quarrel they had Nov. 18, over a backyard cherry tree. Mrs. Brody lives at 4241 Page boulevard and Kaufman in 4243, adjoining.

According to the testimony, Mrs. Brody attacked Kaufman when he attempted to trim the tree. Mrs. Brody asserted the tree was part of the fence separating their properties. However, police upheld Kaufman's contention that the tree included a half-foot into his own yard.

An appeal was taken from Judge Beck's decision.

MRS. MAYBRICK SAID
TO INHERIT $726,000Husband-Poisoner, 16 Years in English Prison, Now Living in Florida.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—The famous Maybrick case of 40 years ago, in which an American woman was sentenced to death, is recalled by a Paris dispatch to the Evening Star.

This reported that an American lawyer there who is looking after the European interests of Mrs. Florence Maybrick, who now is living in Florida, disclosed that a fortune of approximately $150,000 ($125,000) had been left to her under the will of Walter Thomas Burrell, a British subject living in France.

Mrs. Maybrick intends to utilize some of this money, the dispatch said, to start an investigation of supposedly new facts by which she hopes to satisfy public opinion that she was innocent of the charge of poisoning her husband.

Mrs. Maybrick was sentenced to death at Liverpool in 1889 after conviction of poisoning her husband, James Maybrick. A few weeks of the sentence, public opinion became aroused because of the circumstantial nature of some of the evidence, and her sentence was commuted to penal servitude for life.

She served 16 years in prison, being released in 1905. She then went to the United States, without attempting to see her two children, who were in the custody of her brother-in-law, Michael Maybrick, late famous song-writer. The children died several years after their mother's release. She lived several years after her return from England in Highland Park, Ill., near Chicago.

The American woman's defense in the trial was that though her husband had died from poisoning, it was because he had been taking arsenic as a drug for many years. Doctors likewise testified that such was the case.

MISSOURI BOARD APPROVES

Authorizes Union Electric of St. Louis to Take Over Several Plants in Illinois.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 30.—The application of the Union Electric Light and Power Co. of St. Louis for authority to take over from its parent company, the North American Co., stock control of several Illinois public utilities, including the Cahokia plant, for $18,111,697, was granted Wednesday by the Missouri Public Service Commission.

The commission authorized the Union Electric to issue and sell 420,000 additional shares of its no par value common stock, for $25 a share, to the North American Edison Co., and the $10,500,000 derived therefrom will be applied to the treasury of stocks. The balance will be paid from the Union Electric treasury.

The North American Edison Co., a subsidiary of the North American Co., now owns all of the common stock of the Union Electric Light and Power Co., except qualifying shares of the directors.

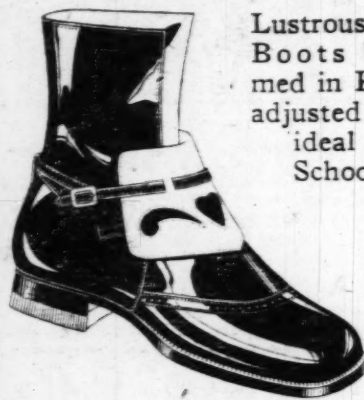

Properties whose stocks are acquired by the Union Electric in the transaction are those of the Union Electric Light and Power Co., of Illinois (Cahokia plant), the East St. Louis and Suburban Co., Alton Light and Power Co., Alton Gas Co. and the Alton Railway Co. The transaction transfers the stock and operating control of these companies from the North American Co. to its subsidiary, the Union Electric of St. Louis.

The utilities thus transferred are not under the jurisdiction of the Missouri commission. The order merely provides that the action of the commission shall not be construed as an approval of any value claimed for the properties for rate making or valuation purposes.

Because — Bonds control every step from loom to you, paying outside profits to nobody! Because Bonds are manufacturing retailers and so can guarantee fine quality plus savings that would be impossible otherwise.

STORY OF CREATION IN BIBLE CALLED MYTH

New Commentary by Church of England Leaders Questions Other Accounts.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—The Daily Mail gives prominence to a review of a new commentary on the Bible, entitled "Commentary on the Holy Scripture," in which a number of Bible stories are declared myths and without historical foundation. Classified as such are the narratives of the creation, the deluge, and the Tower of Babel. Other stories of the traditionally miraculous age are traced to natural causes. The book is the work of more than 50 contributors, all specialists in their subjects, and many of them regarded as among the most learned and most devout leaders of the Church of England. The book itself was produced under the editorship of Dr. Gore, former Bishop of Oxford, who was editor of the famous "Lux Mundi."

While questioning some popular conceptions of New Testament stories, the commentators stress strongly their belief that the evidence for the existence of the Christ, and of His resurrection is overwhelming, and they avoid any minimizing tendency, or any attempt to explain away the central points of Christian faith.

Mr. McMurray Waxes Poetic over Tobacco

Carrollton, Texas
May 15, 1928

Having been a user of Edgeworth for over eight years, I can truthfully say that it is the best on earth. I am enclosing a little ditty that I believe expresses my sentiments entirely: Old Man Joy and Old Man Trouble Went out for a walk one day. I happened to pass when they met on the street. And I overheard them say, Said Old Man Trouble, "She's as wrong as she can be, There ain't no fun in anything to me, why I was just talking to Old Man Sorrow, And he says the world will end tomorrow." Then Old Man Joy he started to grin, And I saw him bring out that OLD BLUE TIN, Then OLD JOE BRYAR was next on the scene, And he packed him full from the OLD BLUE TIN, And I heard him say as he walked away, "You have to have a smoke screen every day, When a man gets the blues, and he needs a friend, He can find consolation in the OLD BLUE TIN, And I just don't believe on all this earth There's a thing that'll match good old EDGEWORTH."

Yours very truly,
F. H. McMurray

SNOWFALL IN SIX STATES IN ROCKIES WITH COLD WAVE

Storm Continues Nearly 32 Hours Leaving White Sheet of 10 to 22 Inches —Traffic Suffers Little.

By the Associated Press.
OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 30.—Snow that was a blessing to winter wheat farmers but a wet blanket to Thanksgiving day outdoor programs covered Nebraska and parts of Iowa today.

Sheets of snow at Des Moines, Ia., were blamed for the death of Mrs. Jonathan Thomas, 75 years old, who was killed when two automobiles collided.

In Western Nebraska snow blocked highways, but nowhere was transportation seriously affected. Absence of winds, which would have caused drifts on railroads and thoroughfares, kept damage to a negligible figure. Thanksgiving day annuals on the football fields of Nebraska suffered both in attendance and in play, the snow-soaked fields making anything but a dull exhibition impossible. Cold came with the snow, although the weather forecast today was warmer weather.

In Omaha downtown traffic was suspended for some time early last night until tractors had cleared the streets. Telephone and telegraph companies reported little delay and railroads experienced no difficulty in the eastern part of the State.

The entire State was covered, the storm starting in the western sections late Wednesday. Some roads in Western Nebraska and Wyoming were almost impassable, reports said. Railroad officers were ready to send snow plows to those sections should a high wind arise. North Platte reported a fall of 10 inches, while at Holdrege there was a 12-inch fall.

Snow Fell Continuously for Nearly 32 Hours.

By the Associated Press.
DENVER, Nov. 30.—Residents of six snowbound Rocky Mountain states turned from Thanksgiving feasting today to dig out from under a heavy snow. The almost continuous 32-hour fall left the entire region blanketed with from one to two feet of snow, which aside from impairing transportation and communication systems, caused little damage, as moderate temperatures prevailed.

The sun was expected greatly to aid in clearing away the drifts today. The forecast was for fair and warmer weather throughout the region.

The heavy fall called forth real Thanksgiving in the farming areas, as it brought needed moisture without causing suffering to livestock. Six hundred Denver laborers found holiday employment in clearing streets and digging out stalled automobiles. Ten inches of snow fell here, while 17 inches was reported at Lander, Wyo. Pike's Peak lay under a 22-inch snow blanket today.

Many of the better known mountain passes appeared definitely closed to motorists for the winter. Railroads expected to open snow-bound lines during the day however, and resumption of air mail service was promised.

The storm last night passed on into the Mississippi Valley, where the outlook was for snow today as far eastward as Missouri.

MISSOURI VOTE

TOTAL 1,519,136, MOST EVER CAST

Hoover's Official Plurality 166,449—State G. O. P.
 Ticket Swept in by 52-210 to 96,851 Margins.

By a Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 29.—Missourians cast a total of 1,519,136 votes in the general election on last Nov. 6, the largest vote ever cast in a general election of the State. It is shown by the official canvass of the vote, completed late Wednesday by Secretary of State Becker.

The official plurality of President-elect Herbert Hoover, (Republican) in Missouri, was 166,449, the largest plurality ever accorded a candidate in Missouri. The Republican landslide, headed by Hoover, swept the Republican state ticket into office with pluralities ranging from 52,210 to 96,851.

The highest vote cast was for gubernatorial candidates, totaling 1,519,136. This is 211,178 votes greater than the presidential vote cast in 1924 and 186,336 votes greater than the presidential vote cast in 1920. The vote cast for President this year was somewhat less than the vote for Governor, and totaled 1,505,730.

Bonds Carried by 166,428.

Initiative Proposition No. 2, the constitutional amendment authorizing issuance of $75,000,000 in state road bonds for hastening completion of the state highway system and construction of farm-to-market feeder roads, passed by a majority of 164,453. It received a "yes" vote of 670,299 and a "no" vote of 505,846.

The other two propositions on the initiative and referendum ballot both were defeated. Proposition number 1, a constitutional amendment to increase the pay of members of the legislature and to change the close of the state's fiscal year from December 31 to June 30, lost by 174,304 votes. The "yes" vote was 445,063 and the "no" vote 620,357.

Proposition No. 2, was an initiative act to put into effect a pension system for police in St. Louis only, lost by 40,624 votes. The "yes" vote was 535,535 and the "no" vote 575,152.

Gov. Baker issued a proclamation late Wednesday giving the result of the vote on the initiative propositions, as provided by law, and officially declared the road bond amendment a part of the Constitution.

Becker Led State Ticket.

Secretary of State Becker, (Rep.), who was re-elected, led the Republican state ticket, with a plurality of 96,851. The second high man on the state ticket was State Treasurer-elect Larry Brunk of Aurora, who had a plurality of 87,861. The low man on the Republican state ticket was Governor-elect Henry S. Caulfield of St. Louis, with a plurality of 52,210.

Hoover's vote was 824,089 and the vote for Gov. Al Smith, Democratic presidential nominee, was 667,621. The Socialist presidential candidate received 2739 votes and the Socialist-Labor candidate 240 votes.

The high Republican vote was 824,089 cast for Hoover. The largest Democratic vote cast for one office was 731,783, cast for Francis M. Wilson of Kansas City, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee.

One Congressional Contest.

The official canvass did not alter the unofficial results in the congressional races, but no canvass was made of the vote in the Third Congressional District. In that district H. F. Lawrence (Rep.) of Cameron, has instituted a contest of the apparent election of J. L. Milligan (Dem.) by 45 votes. The Supreme Court directed Becker not to canvass this vote, pending disposition of the case.

Republicans were elected in 10 of the other 15 districts, a gain of six Republicans in the congressional delegation.

POLICE FIRE 7 SHOTS AT PAIR IN STOLEN CAR

Youths Surrender After Long Chase in Which They Hit Two Machines.

Seven shots were fired by a traffic policeman last night in an automobile chase through downtown streets and alleys in pursuit of two youths in a stolen machine.

Traffic Policeman John Leighton and Clarence Dorchman, riding in a department machine at 6:20 o'clock attempted to stop the other machine, driven at Nineteenth and Olive streets.

The driver of the machine put on speed south in Nineteenth street to Chestnut, west to Twenty-first and Olive streets, where the car struck another machine. The fleeing driver sped to Twenty-second street, north to an alley and east to Eighteenth street. The police machine gained during the chase through the alley and Patrolman Leighton fired three shots in the air and two shots at the speeding car.

In leaving the alley the car collided with a second machine and, as the police car drew alongside, the driver swerved and ran into it. The driver continued on through Locust, Fifteenth, St. Charles and Fourteenth streets to Wash street, east to Broadway, where Leighton fired two shots, then to Morgan street and west to Sixteenth street, where he attempted to turn the corner, the car hit the curb and a wheel came off.

The officers arrested the occupants of the machine, which had been reported stolen earlier in the day from Joseph Burk of Cape Girardeau, Mo., from in front of 1221 Hebert street. The driver of the machine said he is Virgil Shelton, 19 years old, and his companion gave his name as Freeman Hogan, 20 years old. They said they reside in a houseboat at the foot of East Grand avenue. Upon being examined at City Hospital physicians said they had been drinking. Both declined to make a statement and they were locked up on charges of auto theft and numerous traffic violations.

NEGRO TWICE PUT OUT

Inquest Verdict of Heart Disease — He Succumbs After Collapse in Cell.

A Coroner's verdict of heart disease was returned today in the death of Roy Anderson, 46 years old, a Negro, who died at City Hospital No. 2 yesterday after twice being refused admittance.

At 2 p. m. Wednesday, Anderson was taken from his home, 102 North Jefferson avenue, to the hospital. He complained of pains in the stomach, but appeared to be intoxicated and suffering from alcoholic gastritis, hospital physicians said. He was refused admittance, but was treated and told to go home.

He declined to leave, declaring he was ill and remained in the receiving room until 9 p. m. Wednesday, when a patrolman, at request of the hospital authorities, started him down an alley towards his home. Anderson fell and cut his eye and the patrolman returned him to the hospital to have the cut treated and then took him to Laclede Avenue Station and locked him in a cell.

At 1 a. m. yesterday Anderson was found in pain on the cell floor and was taken to the hospital a third time, where he died at 4 a. m.

BOY, 7, PLAYING WITH SHOTGUN, WOUNDS BROTHER Points Supposedly Empty Weapon at Youth Reading in Bed and Kills Trigger.

Herman Rathert, 20 years old, a bookkeeper, 4314 Ellenwood avenue, was shot and seriously wounded at his home last night by his 7-year-old brother, Marvin.

Herman was propped up in bed, reading a book, as Marvin played about the room, at 7 o'clock, Marvin found a shotgun in a closet, pointed it at Herman and pulled the trigger.

"I didn't know it was loaded," he cried, running to his mother in another room.

Herman was taken to Lutheran Hospital, with buckshot wounds in the nose, mouth, tongue, jaw and with the index finger of his left hand shot off.

Inquiry by police developed that the shotgun was not loaded usually, but had been loaded Wednesday night by another brother, Alvin, 18, as a precaution against burglars.

Marvin was turned over to his mother, Mrs. Mathilda Rathert.

John Saake Says He Pushed Patrick Walsh for Calling Him a "Dope Head."

John Saake, 21 years old, 321 Lami street, is under arrest, following the death Tuesday night of Patrick Walsh, 53, 1721 South Third street, from a fractured skull.

Young Saake told police he and Walsh, an uncle, Joseph Saake, 1719 South Third street, were drinking together at the uncle's home, Monday, when Walsh called him a "dope head."

"I probably was drunk, but I wasn't a dope head, so I gave him a shove and he fell over a couple of chairs," John Saake said. "He picked himself up and went out." Later Walsh was removed to City Hospital, where he died.

SAFE BLOWN OPEN AND $2000 STOLEN

Morris Packing Co. at 312
South Twenty-Third Street Robbed.

A safe in the office of the Morris Packing Co., 312 South Twenty-third street, was blown open early yesterday and $2000 cash stolen and $2471 in checks strewn about the floor. The robbers climbed through a rear window and broke down two cooler doors to reach the office.

Approximately $500 was obtained by robbers who opened a safe at the Philip Gruen Bros. Lumber Co., 4006 North Broadway, early yesterday.

A safe at the office of the Sidera Manufacturing Co., 2224 Eugenia street, was robbed of $50. Safe robbers got nothing at the nearby office of the American Japanning Co., 2224 Walnut street.

George J. Hille, manager of the Driverless Auto Co., 505 North Channing avenue, grappled with a man who drew a revolver and attempted to hold him up at 1:05 p. m. yesterday. The two men rolled out on the sidewalk and into the gutter, where the holdup man got loose, fired a shot that just missed Hille's ear, then ran away.

For the ninth time, the filling station at Beaumont and Pine streets was held up last night by two men who obtained $18.57. Other filling station holdups: 4490 West Florissant avenue, $25; Union boulevard and Ashland avenue, $54.

A burglar, who ransacked two rooms and attempted to climb into a bed at 4153 Cleveland avenue yesterday morning, ran out when Susan Ayres, 15, was awakened and called to her mother, Mrs. Laura Ayres, who was in an adjoining room.

A burglar got $10 cash and jewelry valued at $450 at the home of Perry Post Taylor, 5811 Barmter avenue.

Charles Rupp, 5506 Itaska street, owner of a building at 5520 Itaska street, on taking a friend to inspect the property, discovered eight tools had been taken from a chest in the basement. The chest and captured a man leaving the premises and found the tools on him, they told police. The prisoner said he was Barney Peckron, 59 years old. He made no statement.

DOGS, CATS AND RABBITS AT PET FANCIERS' SHOW

Goats, Ponies and Poultry Also at Coliseum Exhibition; Lectures Twice a Day.

Pet fanciers may choose from among assorted groups of dogs, cats, poultry, rabbits, ponies and goats at the fifty-fifth annual exhibition of the Mississippi Valley Pet and Small Stock Show at the Coliseum. The exhibition opened yesterday and will continue until 10 o'clock Sunday night.

Of especial interest to cat fanciers is "Tat-Tai," a Siamese temple cat owned by Mrs. Charles Klein of Memphis, Tenn. The cat is fawn in color, with chocolate markings around the head and feet.

In the dog exhibit a tiny Mexican Chihuahua and a toy black and tan attracted the attention of spectators. Goats, rabbits and several Shetland ponies drew the eyes of children.

Meetings of a dozen poultry clubs, including the American Bantam Association and American Poultry Club, are being held in connection with the show. Educational talks by poultry experts feature the program, being delivered both afternoons and evenings.

O'HARES DIVORCED, WED
NEW MATES SAME DAY

He Marries Irene Reynolds, at Clayton, She C. C. Cunningham at San Jose, Cal.

Kate Richards O'Hare, political radical, and Frank P. O'Hare, who were divorced last June, were remarried Wednesday. Mrs. O'Hare at San Jose, Cal., to Charles C. Cunningham, engineer and landowner, and O'Hare at Clayton to Miss Irene M. Reynolds, 2303 Minnesota avenue.

On the same day also Eugene Robert O'Hare, son of the O'Hares, who is in New York, wrote his father seeking permission to get married. He is 19 years old.

Both O'Hare and his former wife are 61 years old. They were married 26 years ago and have four grown children. In recent years Mrs. O'Hare has lived at Mena, Ark., where she founded an experimental school of liberal arts, while O'Hare has spent most of his time in St. Louis as an industrial engineer. After their divorce Mrs. O'Hare removed to California to establish a school there.

In 1919-20 she served 14 months of a five-year sentence in the Missouri State Penitentiary for delivering a war-time speech opposing the draft. In 1916 and again in 1920 she was an unsuccessful candidate for the vice presidential nomination on the Socialist ticket.

San Francisco dispatches say Cunningham recently disposed of a phosphate deposit in Alabama for $100,000 and was divorced last year, his former wife marrying a San Francisco labor leader.

O'Hare, who lives at 3129A Shenandoah avenue, said he assented to his former wife's wish for a divorce because she was "emotionally unhappy" after her release from the penitentiary in 1920. He said he was glad to hear she had remarried and hoped she has found someone who would make her happy.

He and his present wife, who is a Catholic, were married by a Protestant minister. He hopes to have the Catholic church annul his former marriage, so that he and the present Mrs. O'Hare can be married by a Catholic priest to re-establish her rights as a Catholic communicant.

A. J. TUCHSCHMIDT INDICTED

Architect and Builder, and Emerson Gottfried, as Agent, Accused in Lot Deal.

Arnold J. Tuchschmidt, architect and builder, and Emerson Gottfried, described as an agent for Tuchschmidt, were indicted by the grand jury today on a charge of false pretense in a deal with Mr. and Mrs. John W. Tesson of 4964 Parker avenue on April 27 last. Tuchschmidt was doing business as The Building Corporation, but the indictment avers this was not incorporated.

Tuchschmidt's method in general is said to have been to take deeds of trust on old property in trades for lots in new subdivisions, agreeing to erect dwellings or flats on the new land. The indictment charges that he represented himself as owner of a certain lot on Potomac street, near Kingshighway, and that the Tessons paid $200 down in a deal involving it, with the expectation of building, but that it was found Tuchschmidt did not own the lot and that its dimensions had been described improperly.

There have been a number of complaints to the Circuit Attorney's office about Tuchschmidt, but because of the nature of his contracts the general answer has been that there might be civil but no criminal liability. The Tessons were told this several months ago, but persisted in their complaints. A warrant charging false pretenses

TARIFF RATE URGED BY CAPPER

Immediate Enactment of Emergency Bill Proposed by Kansas Senator.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Immediate enactment of an emergency tariff act to increase rates on agricultural imports was advocated by Senator Capper (Rep.) of Kansas, in a statement issued yesterday.

"To attempt general tariff revision now," he declared, "keeping the existing general relationship between agricultural and other products, would be playing a rather threadbare joke on the farmers of the country. And I believe they show signs of becoming tired of being denied proper consideration by tariff makers."

"There should be a higher tariff on meat products and dairy products, on livestock, on wool, cotton, grain and grain products and oil seeds. There should be a reduction in a few overprotected manufactured articles—notably aluminum."

Salts Fine for Aching Kidneys

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

BUSINESS IMPROVING IN ST. LOUIS DISTRICT

In Spite of Conservative Buying, Federal Report Indicates Better Tone.

Despite conservative buying by retailers, business conditions in the Eighth Federal Reserve District improved steadily during the last 30 days, according to the monthly report of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis.

Christmas holiday orders were received earlier than usual this year and the volume of business was greater than at the corresponding time in 1927. Sales of goods for ordinary consumption held up in spite of unusually warm weather during October and early November, but declines were noted in sales of clothing, dry goods and men's hats. Increases were apparent in sales of groceries, hardware, drugs, chemicals, furniture, packing products, millinery and confectionery.

The steel business showed greatest activity, with mills, foundries and machine shops adding to their working forces. Manufacturers of specialties such as stoves, engines, and farm implements, reported sales greater than in 1927 or 1926. Consumption of electricity and building permits increased in the manufacturing centers, and conditions in these centers contributed to lessening the unemployment problem.

Warm weather made possible harvesting of late products such as corn, rice and tobacco, under ideal conditions and was favorable for winter wheat planting. Cotton picking was reported near completion with yields measuring up to early estimates.

With miners generally accepting the new wage scale an improvement was noted in the demand for steam coal, but spot price levels for bituminous coal declined slightly. Freight movements on the chief trunk lines rose to new high levels, merchandise and miscellaneous freight leading. Coal movements increased, but declines due to early marketing, were seen in grain shipments. Passenger traffic in October decreased 6 per cent.

The estimated tonnage on the Federal barge line between St. Louis and New Orleans in October was 129,590, an increase of 15,500 tons over that in the corresponding month a year ago.

GRAND DUKE ALEXANDER IN U. S. FOR THIRD VISIT

Russian Nobleman Declares Coming to New York Will Be "Like a Family Reunion."

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Grand Duke Alexander Michailovich, a cousin and brother-in-law of the late Czar Nicholas II of Russia and a cousin-in-law of King George of England, arrived last night on the liner Leviathan for his third visit to America. The Russian nobleman, who has been in exile in Paris, said his visit will be "like a family reunion," for he has two sons—Prince Dimitri of New York City, and Rostislav of Chicago—and two nieces in this country.

His niece, Mrs. W. B. Leeds, formerly Princess Xenia of Russia, and Prince Dimitri greeted him at the pier. Mrs. Leeds last winter befriended Madame Anastasia Tschaikovsky, who claimed to be one of the surviving daughters of Czar Nicholas.

The Grand Duke said he had investigated her claims and found no grounds for them. "She is not the niece of my wife," he asserted.

CAPT. WILKINS HOPES TO FLY SOUTH TODAY

Winds and Breaking Up of Ice Delay Aviation Plans of Antarctic Party.

By CAPT. SIR HUBERT WILKINS

(Copyright, 1928.) This story is published exclusively in St. Louis in the Post-Dispatch. All news articles from members of the Wilkins party, or from special correspondents assigned to it, will appear only in the Post-Dispatch in this city.

DECEPTION ISLAND, Antarctic, Nov. 29.—(Via whaler Hektor, Nov. 29.—(Via whaler Hektor and 6-ARD, San Francisco Examiner radio station, delayed)—There was no turkey for us this Thanksgiving. We looked for seal to celebrate the day with seal steaks but the weather was too rough for them to come to the beach and we contented ourselves with pemmican.

High wind, low clouds and heavy snow last night gave way to a few hours of sunshine this morning, but the weather continues unfavorable for aviation.

The wind continues strong today, and is breaking up the harder ice. Loose ice has crowded around the Hektor for a quarter of a mile, eliminating all possibility of transporting gasoline from the ship to the solid ice by motor boat.

Low storm clouds hang over Graham's Land, though signs promise clear weather tomorrow. Our airplanes are standing on wheels on the runway we have cleared. Before we can start we must first them with skis and fill the tanks with gasoline.

A whaler is coming into the harbor for coal. The weather the last few days has been too bad for them to shoot whales. The ship may serve to break way through the ice for the motorboat with supplies. If so, and if the weather is good, we will fly south tomorrow.

U. S. BOARD OK'S PAROLE FOR THOMAS W. MILLER

Sargent's Approval Required for Release of Former Allen Property Custodian.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Thomas W. Miller, former Allen property custodian, convicted in New York on charge of conspiracy to defraud the Government, was recommended for a parole today by the Federal Parole Board.

The recommendation must be approved by Attorney-General Sargent before it becomes effective. Miller was convicted in March, 1927, and sentenced to 18 months in the Atlanta penitentiary. He began serving the sentence April 24. The Government had charged Miller with conspiracy to defraud the United States of his honest and unbiased services. With others with whom he was indicted, he was alleged to have agreed to pass claims for $7,000,000, proceeds of the sale of impounded American Metal Co. shares seized in the World War. Testimony was introduced to show that Miller's bank accounts disclosed acceptance of a "fee" of $50,000 to effect allowance of the claim.

Harry M. Daugherty, former Attorney-General, the late John T. King, Republican National Committee man for Connecticut, and Jess W. Smith, associate of Daugherty, were indicted with Miller. Daugherty and Miller were tried jointly and the jury disagreed on the former. Smith killed himself and King died before he could be brought to trial.

Boy Gets Pneumonia in Jail, Dies. Michael Walton, Negro, 14 years old, 112 South Leonard avenue, St. Louis, died today at St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis, from pneumonia contracted while a Government prisoner in the East St. Louis jail. Jail inmates said Walton, although ill at the jail and receiving medical attention, was compelled to sleep on the cement floor until he was removed to the hospital last Sunday.

DUNEDIN, N. Z., Nov. 29 (by wire)—So many final checks or material had to be made today that the bark City of New York, of Commander Richard E. Byrd's Antarctic expedition, could not get away on its southward cruise, but it seemed certain that the ship will leave some time tomorrow.

Today was fair, with a clear sky which enabled the work to go forward more swiftly, and all day large cranes have been dumping stores into the City of New York so that every place between deck will be filled by the time the air planes and the dogs and gasoline will be loaded tomorrow.

There are continual cheers over the way things are piling up below. Every few moments some body comes staggering down the after companionway with a bag of bundles in his arms. Capt. Parker fell down with his seahag, letting out a string of Marine Corps curses. Then he called for help.

Banks Filled With Supplies.
Dean "Babe" Smith, six-foot pilot, has a special bunk for him but some doubt whether he will be able to use it, as it has been appropriated by the radio men for the storing of supplies and they have filled it nearly full. "Babe" was proud of that bunk and used to talk about it all the way down on the whaler C. J. Larsen. As he has seen it disappear slowly under a growing accumulation of materials he has protested mildly.

Isn't there quite a lot in here? he has said, plaintively several times; but his last few roars have been reduced to complete suppression as he has contemplated the tiny hole through which he must crawl to sleep. The only way to arouse him is to ask whether he thinks there are sufficient radio supplies aboard.

Every cabin is in the same condition. Dr. Francis E. Coman, who has been up two nights checking foodstuffs, who says his Dundee whiskers are getting greasier and greasier, comes down once in a while to look into his cabin, then shuts the door and steals quietly away. It is loaded with bundles and bags and there is no place to lie down. It will take a day at least to get it straightened around.

The movie men's room is so full they cannot get to their bunks for a week. However, nobody considers discomfort, as they are to be expected, and everyone smiles.

Capt. Melville has been ready the last mail for the United States, and he will act as the "farthest South" American Postmaster on the expedition.

Clothing Issued to Men.
Richard Brophy, second in command, has been dashing about the day making sure that the things were aboard, after giving out the clothing issue at 6 o'clock this morning. The clothes are excellent and in good condition.

Bert Balchen has come down to companionway, looking as happy as a lark with his eyes dancing. "Never was there such an expedition," he said, and he has two of them in the North with Amundsen.

Commander Byrd was greatly pleased with the results of Brophy's efforts, remarking: "He has done an excellent piece of work and accomplished a most unusual task in assembling all this material here and getting it loaded. He has kept his head under difficult conditions and deserves great credit."

Last night, Commander Byrd and the members of the expedition were guests at a civic reception in the town hall, at which Mayor Turner presided. He welcomed them to New Zealand and told them that he would extend an even more cordial welcome to them on their return. Sir Charles Statham, a member of Parliament, also spoke.

Premier Edwards Good Wish.
Commander Byrd, in reply, promised to return to this city when he comes back. Byrd read a telegram from Prime Minister Coates, in which the Premier said:

"On the eve of the departure of your expedition for the Antarctic I desire on behalf of the Government to bid you goodnight."

Hoover's Ship Crosses Equator With King Neptune's Royal Court

President-Elect, Passing Over Line for 15th Time, Watches Ceremony From Special Platform—Son Among "Pollywogs."

By the Associated Press.

U. S. S. MARYLAND, ON WAY TO QUAYAGUIL, Ecuador, Nov.
30.—Rising from the sea with his Royal Court, King Neptune today took charge of this good will ship as it crossed the Equator. His trusted shellbacks—those who have crossed the Equator before—were with him to initiate pollywogs—those who haven't—into the mystery of his realm.

President-elect Hoover, shell-back of shellbacks, who was crossing for the fifteenth time with Mrs. Hoover, and Ambassador Fletcher, who has witnessed many an initiation, watched the ceremony from a special platform built on a forward turret.

Allan Hoover, son of the President-elect, was below them with 23 landlubbers of the good will party who were waiting their turn with 750 officers and sailors, who had received warnings to appear before the Royal Court and receive sentence and punishment.
Neptune and Court Boards Ship.

King Neptune was accompanied aboard the Queen Amphitrite, the Royal baby and ladies and gentlemen of the court, all in beautiful court dress with flowing robes.
After a parade around the deck before the crew, which was drawn up at general muster, the King summoned his court and embarked upon his eight-hour task of sentencing and directing the carrying out of punishment. A battery of photographers with the Hoover party recorded the proceedings for the entertainment of those back home and for posterity.

Miss Ruth Fessler of Washington, secretary to Mrs. Hoover, who also is a shellback, had the task of minding the Royal baby, who was impersonated by C. H. Chiaramonte of San Pedro, Cal., a squat big-chested boxer wrestler and football player of the Maryland crew.

H. T. Sears of New York, an electrician's mate, played Queen Amphitrite. E. S. Tesar of Baltimore was in the role of King, with C. A. Fulham of San Pedro, Royal Admiral, and F. N. Beckel of Philadelphia the Royal Navigator.

Pollywogs Thrown Into Tank.
The high spot of the whole ceremony was the throwing of each candidate into a tank on the forecastle deck after he had been shaved by the Royal barber. Before that the candidates had been meted out, including the swallowing of horrible tasting pills, having the mouth washed out with a bitter tasting liquid, having oil of graphite rubbed in the hair and other forms of discomfort such as appearing in stocks or taking part in a chain gang.

The ceremonies began late yesterday with the appearance on the ship of "Davy Jones," as herald for King Neptune. He brought aboard submerged duly signed and sealed orders for all pollywogs, sailors and marines and all members of the Hoover party. The ship's company was drawn up on the quarterdeck as "Davy Jones," played by J. R.
Dennis of Alexandria, Va., a chief boatswain's mate, appeared in pirates' garb. He announced to Capt. Victor A. Kimberly that he came as a royal herald from "His Royal Majesty Neptune, Rex," and would take charge of the ship to determine the worthiness of the pollywogs and landlubbers to enter Neptune's domain.

"Davy Jones" Greets Hoover.
"Davy Jones" was presented to President-elect Hoover and Mrs.
Hoover who sat with the captain.
As he shook hands with each of them, he made a low bow and a wide flourish with his black, cocked hat, to the President-elect, he said:

"Welcome Hoover, I welcome you here, and I also welcome Mrs.
Hoover."
"Davy Jones" then climbed to the top of a ventilator and unrolled a vellum scroll on the back of which was painted a white skull and cross-bones, and on the front a proclamation to the ship's company from King Neptune. The proclamation welcomed the Maryland's return to Neptune's realm and added:

"On this voyage you carry a guest whom His Majesty has numbered for 30 years among his faithful shellbacks. Fourteen times has he entered the royal domain and on this fifteenth he comes as one to be exalted by people of land and sea to the highest position among mortals.

"Shellback Hoover, His Majesty felicitates you as a potentate almost equal to himself and bids you welcome."
"Also His Majesty's exalted consort Queen Amphitrite deigns to welcome that gracious lady who herself has ventured so often and so gallantly into His Majesty's domain."

"All gentle breezes which have carried this ship since she took the sea, all graceful birds that have careened before her bow, were but Her Majesty's greeting to this favored subject."

"Forgive the blunt words of an old sailor."

Even before "Davy Jones" appeared shellbacks were busy with the pollywogs, arresting some of officers as well as men. Those under arrest were handcuffed together and put in the brig on a bread and water diet. Those worst offenders against the authority of Neptune were the ones taken into custody. Others were given a beating by the shellback police force who used rag batons as weapons.

To Reach Ecuador Tomorrow.
While the rollicking show was going on today the Maryland was steaming swiftly southward so as to arrive at Ecuador at 5 a. m. tomorrow. Off the coast of Ecuador the Hoover party will be transferred to the cruiser Cleveland for a 60-mile trip across the roadstead and up the river to Guayaquil where the President-elect will be the guest of President Isidro Ayora. He will be entertained tomorrow afternoon and night at a reception and dinner. This will be the first overnight stop on the goodwill tour which started at San Pedro, on Nov. 19.

Banquet and Ball for Hoover at Guayaquil, Ecuador.
By the Associated Press.
GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, Nov. 30.— A reception is being arranged here for President-elect Hoover and his party when they arrive tomorrow.

President Isidro Ayora is supervising many of the details of the reception himself. Today he conferred with local authorities as to some of its details and later visited the Union and Metropolitan Clubs, where a banquet and ball in honor of the guests will be given on their arrival.

It is hoped here that President Ayora's knowledge of French and German, in addition to Spanish, will permit of his conversing with Hoover without the use of an interpreter.

The Municipal Council today declared Hoover and Ambassador Fletcher are to be guests of honor of the city during their stay here.

Cuba Issues Official Statement Regarding Hoover's Visit.
By the Associated Press.
HAVANA, Nov. 30.—In an official statement made by President Machado today, in connection with the forthcoming visit of Herbert Hoover, assurance was once more given foreigners of ample protection by the Cuban Government. A cordial message of friendship was given to the people of the United States.

The message said that the welcome planned for Hoover was only an extension of that accorded to President Coolidge when the latter came to Havana last January to open the sixth Pan-American conference. The President said that Cuba was not attempting to play any political game by these ceremonies.

Zealanders for Americans.
Commander Byrd called his crew together yesterday on the deck of the bark City of New York and announced the sailing plans.
A stiff breeze, almost a gale, whipped the waters of the harbor, clouds scudded overhead, and in the air was a tang of the great southern world of ice and snow.

The men in the little group buttoned their coats tighter and grinned at each other as the air bit into the skin. In a week, the sturdy bark will be staggering through sleet-laden gales, close to the ice pack and those aboard will be looking eagerly for a way through that great floating barrier.

Byrd Expects Rough Sailing.
Commander Byrd, slim and eager in his brown uniform, his eyes keenly surveying the group before him, told the men he appreciated their efforts and knew they would tackle the job ahead with the greatest enthusiasm.
Byrd expects rough sailing.

"This is no picnic," he said.
"We are going to have a rough time and must expect it, but if each man does his best, I have no doubt of the outcome."

"Keep smiling, remember that good fellowship is perhaps more important than efficiency on an expedition like this."

"We are going to try to get out tomorrow evening, and if every man does his best we will do it.
Now go to it."

CECIL FOR PARITY BETWEEN BRITISH AND U. S. NAVIES

Viscount, Winner of Peace Prize, Tells League Group
He Thinks Agreement
Can Be Reached.

FAVORS EQUALITY IN TONS AND GUNS

View That, if Two Nations Should Reach Accord, Japan Soon Would Fall Into Line.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, who was closely associated with Woodrow Wilson in the formation of the League of Nations, favors parity of the United States Navy with the British.

Speaking before the Parliamentary Committee of the League of Nations Union, he urged absolute mathematical equality in both tons and guns between the two nations.
He said he thought disarmament was treated too much as a matter for experts and too little as a question of large politics.

Viscount Cecil asserted America might desire to raise the question of freedom of the seas. His view was that acceptance of the principle of freedom of neutrals to trade with belligerents was subject to the old rules of blockade and would be advantageous to Great Britain rather than otherwise. Great Britain, he said, ought to be prepared to come to terms on that point, provided America was prepared to join in enforcing those principles when they were accepted.

Resigned Cabinet Post.
Viscount Cecil went to Paris in 1919 to assist in the formation of the League of Nations, and his close association with that organization was recognized in December, 1924, when he received the first annual award of the Woodrow Wilson Peace Prize of $25,000.

He was a member of the British delegation to the three-power naval conference at Geneva in 1927 and shortly after the failure of that conference he announced his resignation from his Cabinet post, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster.

At that time, alluding to the failure of the conference, he said:
"I think success might have been achieved without any sacrifice of British interests. I was out of sympathy with the instructions I received."

At the Geneva conference the United States delegates desired that limitation should be on the total tonnage of cruisers and auxiliary vessels on the five-five-three ratio. The British desired that limitation be put on 10,000-ton cruisers only with agreement that smaller cruisers could be built according to individual needs.

Belives Accord Is Possible.
The first step toward any disarmament agreement must be an accord between Great Britain and the United States, Viscount Cecil said in his speech. He was unable to see why such an accord was impossible.

The United States, he continued, offered, "as we sometimes put it demanded" absolute parity. In his view it was manifestly in Britain's interest to accept that offer or demand without reserve. He said that on the basis of absolute equality in guns and tons a full agreement could still be reached.

It was true, Viscount Cecil said, that the Americans might prefer to base the agreement on total cruiser tonnage, whereas he felt the more the classes were subdivided the more completely equality could be assured, but that was not an issue of sufficient importance to allow it to wreck agreement.

Viscount Cecil said that if, as he believed, an agreement could be reached with the United States on this basis there would be no question but that Japan would fall into line. He would then be prepared to go some way to meet the French demand for limitation by total tonnage, provided France maintained the offer she had already made to notify the other Powers in advance of any changes in her naval program.

each man does his best, I have no
doubt of the outcome."

good fellowship is perhaps more important than efficiency on an expedition like this."

tomorrow evening, and if every
man does his best we will do it.

Notes "Continuity of Prosperity" During Fiscal Year Ended June, 1928.

FINDS RECOVERY FROM 1927 SLUMP

Says Steadiness Has Been Manifested in Prices of Major Groups of Commodities.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The continuity of prosperity in the United States was the keynote of the annual report of the Department of Commerce for the fiscal year ended June 30, which was made public today.

The year, according to the report, continued the "high economic activity which has been characteristic of American industry during recent years."

"There was a slight recession during the latter part of the calendar year 1927, but this was fully recovered during the first six months of 1928. As a result of this temporary reduction in activity, however, several of the indicators of business conditions show for the fiscal year 1927-28, as a whole, an average below the peak levels of 1926-27, although almost every one of them stood materially higher than during such prosperous years as 1923-24 and 1924-25."

Slackening in 1922 Discussed.
The report further set forth that the slackening of business in the earlier months of the fiscal year just closed was due to special and temporary causes, among others the damage caused by the Mississippi flood, the prolongation of the effect of the low price of cotton of the crop of 1926 and the temporary shutdown of certain large motor vehicle plants for readjustment of models.

"At the close of the fiscal year 1927-28," it was said, "business in nearly all branches was on a level rarely if ever before attained. The production and consumption for the year as a whole and the physical quantity of exports and imports were very large."

"Unemployment was relatively unimportant, and the rate of real wages and the standard of living of the masses of the people remained higher than anywhere else in the world."

The report stated that mineral production in 1926-27 was "abnormally great," partly because of the demand for coal, caused by the British mining strike, and partly by reason of an unduly rapid expansion of petroleum output which was generally considered contrary to the public interest.

The falling off in aggregate mineral production during the fiscal year just closed was therefore entirely to be expected. Output, nevertheless, remained greater than in any year before 1926-27. The decline in railroad traffic last year was in considerable part due to this smaller movement of coal."

Stability of Prices.
Attention was called to the stability of the level of wholesale prices during the past six years.
"This stability," the report said,
"has been at the same time a factor in keeping business on an even keel, and a result of the steady activity and growth of industry and trade. The highest point reached by the wholesale price index during the last six years, in March, 1923, was only 11 per cent above the lowest point in April and May, 1927."

"From about November, 1925, to the beginning of the fiscal year 1927-28, there was on the whole a slight downward tendency, while during the fiscal year just closed

FRANCE IS MOST PROSPEROUS EUROPEAN NATION, BRITON SAYS

Its Trade Is Double Pre-War Volume, Commercial Attache at Paris Reports.
(Copyright, 1928, by the Press and Publishing Co., the New York World and Post-Dispatch.) PARIS, Nov. 30.—France is now the most prosperous country in Europe according to J. R. Cahill, British commercial attache in Paris. In a report on economic conditions in France, Cahill writes that 1928 has been particularly favorable, noting the fact that only 800 are receiving unemployment benefit. French trade is now double of its pre-war volume, he adds.
"Since the inflation period

France has experienced a period of pronounced industrial and commercial activity," the report reads.
With the acquisition of Alsace-Lorraine France is in a position superior to Germany or Great Britain in this respect.
France he says further, is now Europe's largest producer of pig iron. Great Britain produced four times as much as France in 1913, but now lags behind. France's exports of steel, Cahill reports, are eight times greater than before the war. With nearly 1,000,000 visitors each year from England and 250-000 from America, the tourists influx each year, for all countries is 2,000,000. France, the report concludes, is being greatly enriched from that source alone.

HOOPER PRESENTS FINAL REPORT OF CABINET OFFICER

The movement has been in a small measure upward.

"The steadiness characteristic of the general wholesale price index also has been manifested in the prices of the major groups of commodities. The prices of farm products usually vary somewhat more than those of other articles taken as a group, because of fluctuations in the crop production of the United States and other countries.

"Between 1922-23 and 1924-25 farm products advanced relatively to other products in central markets, and they have since retained in a general way the relation then reached. Prices of agricultural products in 1927-28 averaged considerably higher than during the preceding fiscal year as against a slight decrease in other commodities, considered as a group."

Activity in Building Trades.
Turning to another field, the report remarked that "during the past seven or eight years, the amount of construction (of buildings) in the United States has been unparalleled in the history of this or any other important country. This high activity reflects both expansion of the equipment of industry and commerce and marked improvement in the quality of that equipment, and, above all, in the quality of the homes of the people."

Railroads were said to "have continued to furnish adequate and efficient service and to enjoy large traffic and revenues. The betterment of service has been the result of effort on the part of railroad companies themselves." It was added, "and of co-operation on the part of shippers and receivers of merchandise. The railroad companies have improved their roadbeds and equipment. The co-operation of business men has been particularly conspicuous in the form of regional advisory boards of the American Railway Association."

Analyzing the movement of gold to Europe, with the fluctuating reserve bank rate that has accompanied it, and the resulting swings in bank deposits, it was said that after making allowance for "the extraordinary volume of trading on the stock exchanges," the situation indicated "a healthy state of business activity."

The country's foreign trade was illustrated by special report sections prepared by Dr. Julius Klein, the department's director in that activity. Canada's emergence as the best customer of the United States displacing Great Britain from a long held post, was noted, and the conclusion was expressed that international exchanges for the year had brought about "very heavy new investments of American capital in foreign countries."

Progress of Aeronautics.
W. P. McCracken, assistant secretary for aeronautics, declared in an accompanying report that there had been "phenomenal progress in every phase of the industry" during the year. He remarked "unprecedented increase in air transport service alone," which had resulted in increasing the regularly flown air route mileage in the country from 8396 miles to 11,191. Railroad interest in the field had brought about co-operation, and the development of betterments had made more usable machines available.

"Commercial aeronautics is no longer on the threshold," he concluded. "It has entered the business world, and without subsidy, has become an integral part of American industry and transportation. There is every indication of still greater growth during the ensuing biennial period."

BYRD WILL SAIL TOMORROW FOR ANTARCTIC BASE

everything before seem like a Sunday School party.

Commander Byrd's personality has won him an unusual response from his crews, pilots, scientists and the captains of both ships.

They have been working like stevedores. It is nothing unusual to see a mate who had a lieutenant's commission in the navy staggering along under a packing box or an army officer lugging baggage or supplies for someone else. Every one lends a hand, and one has to be a member of such an expedition before it is possible to realize the meaning of the word comradery. Probably nothing like it has been seen since the war.

The Thanksgiving dinner provided a merry party. Everyone ate aboard the City of New York. The big forecastle was filled with men, and an overflow went aft. The forecastle is littered with boxes for every inch of space must be utilized, and in this light it was a place of indescribable confusion. With the bunks filled with luggage. Some of the center bunks were tipped up on their sides to make room, and along one side a big table was laid at which 25 men ate at a time.

The menu of turkey and cranberry sauce, mince pie, cake and ice cream gave a bit of home that was doubly welcome on this day. As soon as the dinner was over, the men scattered to the various tasks assigned to them, checking stores and making sure that the proper provisions and materials were placed aboard.

The equipment is probably the best ever put together for an Antarctic trip. The Norwegians are particularly pleased with the gear for use on the ice barrier.

The ski boots, they say, are the best ever made and the skills for the sledding parties are the finest that ever came out of Norway. These men, tall, broad shouldered and grim of jaw, have a twinkle of joy in their gray eyes at the prospect of pushing off in to the ice. One cannot help watching them, there is so much of the viking in their bearing.

Ship to be Heavily Loaded.
The work of loading goes on rapidly and when the City of New York leaves the harbor she will be heavily laden. No load can spoil her sterling seagoing qualities, however, and Capt. Melville insists she is the stoutest and best sailing little bark in the world.

"Let the gales blow," is Capt. Melville's motto, "she'll ride 'em like a duck."

The City of New York will have a big deck load, as one and probably two of the airplanes will be loaded on her, and the space between and over the main hatch will be used to house a lot of dogs. There will be dogs all over the ship, wherever they can be brought about co-operation, and

I'll be tickled to see all my little friends TOMORROW at

TOYLAND

There Is a Santa Claus

DOLLS

In Toyland you will find big Dolls—little Dolls—dressed in pretty costumes—many of them talking, and closing their eyes. Only a few of the many kinds are described.

Below is reprinted the famous editorial written by the late Frank Church, editorial writer on the New York Sun, in reply to the wistful query of a little girl whose playmates had laughed at her belief in her beloved old friend. "Is there a Santa Claus?" Virginia asked.

VIRGINIA, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole truth and knowledge.

YES, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

NOT believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

YOU tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

NO SANTA CLAUS! Thank God! he lives, and lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

JUGO-SLAVIA CURBS WIVES' RIGHTS, EXTENDS HUSBANDS'

Latter May Get Divorce if Mate Remains Away From Home One Night Without Consent.

(Copyright, 1929, by the Press and Publishing Co., the New York World and Post-Dispatch.)
BELGRADE, Nov. 30.—Jugo-Slav women lose all but a remnant of personal freedom under the new divorce laws which the Orthodox Church tribunals of the country have just adopted.

Henceforth a husband can divorce his wife by producing proof that she spent a night away from their home without his knowledge or consent. An exception to this is made if the wife spends a night at the home of her parents. The husband's consent must be given before a wife can accept the hospitality of woman friends. A wife's visit to a dancing place or a movie theater without her husband's consent also becomes a cause for divorce, if he cares to use such a pretext.

Husbands cannot be divorced on the same grounds, although wives are still protected by laws granting them divorce on the grounds of misconduct, five years' consecutive desertion or imprisonment of the husband for not less than eight years.

FRIENDLY REPLY FROM BALDWIN ON NAVAL LIMITATION

Intelligent persons, anxious that Anglo-American relations shall make a fresh start toward organized good will, will not care a row of buttons whether Britain has broken the law or acted outside the rules of international etiquette.

"The important thing is that he brought to a focus, Lord Lee's recent proposal on similar lines and Premier Baldwin's regret at the infrequency of personal contacts between official representatives of the two nations.

"It may not be etiquette for Baldwin to reply officially to Britten, but if he neglects to devise a method by which he can express readiness to attend a statesman's meeting, he will have missed a priceless opportunity.

"We have reached an impasse for which instant satisfaction is only a shade more responsible than the narrow views of naval experts on both sides and the only hope that remains is to look up the experts, cut through the walls of etiquette and thrash out every controversial issue from the beginning.

SAYS PAINS DISAPPEARED, COMPLEXION MUCH BETTER

"I suffered a long time with my back and sides, before I knew about Cardui," says Mrs. J. B. Drexler, of Harper Street, Honesda, Pa. "I was thin, and my color was a pale yellow. I was in awfully bad shape. I tried several things, but nothing seemed to help me much. About five years ago, I just happened to be reading a paper which had an account in it of a lady who had been benefited by taking Cardui, so I sent for a bottle.

"I was agreeably surprised to find myself much better after I had taken it. The cause of the ache in my side was a strain. In some way I had strained my side by heavy lifting, and I had let it run on too long.

"Gradually I grew stronger; the pains in back and sides disappeared. I gained about twenty pounds in weight, and my color got over as much better.

"I am delighted with Cardui. I have taken it several times since my first experience with it, and it has always helped me. I wish I could tell all suffering women to try it. Cardui is a purely vegetable medicine; mild, harmless. (K-41)

PUBLIC SERVICE CO. COMMON

STOCK FALLS $3 A SHARE

Receipts for Four Months Under 8-Cent Fare $1,100,743 Over Operating Expenses.

The market on common stock of the Public Service Co. closed on the St. Louis Stock Exchange Wednesday at $20 a share, a drop of $3 since Monday, the day on which the company advertised that its operating receipts for the four months of the 8-cent fare up to Nov. 1 were $6,470,837 and its operating expenses $5,370,094, leaving $1,100,743 available for use of the property. Today sales were made at $22.50.

Annual requirements of the company for the dividend of $7 per share on the preferred stock, interest on funded debt and other interest charges are $1,500,820 and for the sinking fund $248,749, a total of $1,749,569. On the basis of the company's accounts for the four-month period, and for the preceding seven months, since the Public Service Co. began operating the trolley system, it appears the aggregate available for use of the property for the first 12 months of Public Service Co. operation may approximate $2,500,000.

Deducting the fixed charges from this sum, about $350,000 would be available for an earnings of about $1 per share on the $34,620 15-18 shares of common stock outstanding, if a dividend should be declared. However, since the gradual retirement of the funded debt through the sinking fund enhances the equity of the common stockholders, it may be calculated, disregarding the sinking fund payment, that the return on the common stock would be equivalent to $1.74 per share.

The market price of the common remained at $22 last Tuesday. Six shares were sold at $20 last Friday. The exchange was closed yesterday.

The common stock was issued originally to old stockholders at $12.50 per share, but the stock subscription receipts first sold on the St. Louis Stock Exchange on May 3, 1926, at $17.50 a share.

SUSPECTED LIQUOR RUNNER IS KILLED BY COAST GUARDS

Companion on Lake Ontario Vessel Wounded by Machine-Gun Fire From Cutter.

By the Associated Press. BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 30.—Federal and county officers are investigating the fatal shooting by the coast guard yesterday of Carl Anderson, 38 years old, of Lewistown, N. Y. When the cabin cruiser Bug was captured in Lake Ontario near the mouth of the Niagara River, Anderson, one of the crew, was shot to death and Edmund Sahr, 24, Niagara Falls, the other member, seriously wounded. Coast Guardsmen asserted the shooting was justified. They said the boat, a suspected liquor runner, failed to move to when ordered. Last spring the fatal shooting of Jacob D. Hanson occurred only a short distance from the scene of yesterday's fatality. Hanson, Secretary of Niagara Falls Lodge of Elks, was fatally wounded while driving his automobile up Lewiston Hill in Niagara County. He was suspected by coast guardsmen at the time of running liquor, but none was found in his car and acquaintances later cleared his name of all suspicion.

The Bug lay on the beach near Lewiston today, bullet holes in it bearing witness to coast guardsman marksmanship. The boat was detected running without lights after the CG-2364, a Federal cutter, had been ordered to watch for it. Reports had been received that it had been bringing beer and ale from Canada.

A machine gun raked it with bullets and when finally it was boarded, Anderson was found dead and his companion suffering from wounds. There was no liquor aboard, but from the pockets of the dead man, according to the guardsmen, were taken clearance papers for ale and a bill of lading dated Nov. 28 for a consignment of 2000 cases of ale to C. Anderson, Wilson, via Niagara-on-the-lake, Ont.

Niagara customs authorities said that the Bug cleared from Niagara-on-the-Lake Wednesday night with 200 cases of ale aboard. It is thought by authorities that the cruiser had landed its ale and was returning to port when it encountered the CG-2364. Anderson leaves a wife and three children ranging in age from seven to 13 years.

GAMBLING CHARGES FAIL AGAINST 24 TAKEN IN RAID

Police Unable to Prove Case Against Those Arrested in "Progressive Realty Club."

Police court cases against 24 men arrested in a raid July 24 on the "Progressive Realty Club," in the City Club building were dismissed for lack of evidence Wednesday by Judge Roscoe when police attached to the gambling squad said they saw no dice being rolled and no money changing hands.

Charges were prosecuted against only one of the defendants, Aaron Feinstein, Leclaire Hotel, secretary of the club. Police said they could not identify Feinstein or any of the other defendants as crap-shooters inasmuch as "everybody was moving away from the table," when policemen entered the room. Dice and other gambling apparatus were confiscated, however, police said.

Warrants charging setting up and operating gambling devices were issued previously against Feinstein and Edward Oxenhandler, 1614 Third avenue, president of the club.

BOY DIES OF MENINGITIS

Internal Health by Nature's Own Methods

If you are sick inside you are sick all over. When the stomach fails to digest its food, you are standing at the threshold of a series of ailments that may end in a complete physical wreck. Internal health means health throughout the body. Keep your stomach and other digestive organs clean and vigorous by giving them the natural stimulation of the roots, barks and herbs contained in Tanlac.

Tanlac is wonderful for indigestion and constipation—gas, pains, nausea, dizziness and headaches. It brings back lost appetite, helps you digest your food, and gain strength and weight.

Tanlac is as free from harmful drugs as the water you drink. It contains no mineral drugs; it is made of roots, barks and herbs, nature's own medicines for the sick. For over 10 years it has been recommended by druggists who have watched its marvelous results. The cost is less than 2 cents a dose. Get a bottle of Tanlac from your druggist and give it a thorough trial. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

FORMER YALE ROWING CAPTAIN ARRESTED FOR BEATING WIFE

Wm. J. MacMahon of 1906 Team Held in Jail at Painesville, O.

PAINESVILLE, O., Nov. 28.—William J. MacMahon, 46 years old, of Conneaut, captain of the Yale rowing team in 1906, was in county jail here last night on charges of assault with intent to kill as the result of an alleged attack on his wife, Mrs. Mai Stillwagon MacMahon.

Mrs. MacMahon is in serious condition at a hospital. Sheriff Edward Rasmussen said MacMahon beat her on the head with a flashlight while they were en route from Cleveland to their home on the lake front near Conneaut.

Although Sheriff Rasmussen obtained a statement from Mrs. MacMahon, he declined to give her version of the attack. MacMahon, according to the Sheriff, said he had been gassed while serving with the Royal Canadian air force during the war and consequently is subject to violent spells.

MANY FORMS OF HEALTH TROUBLE ENDED BY KONJOLA

"New Medicine Goes to Very Source of Common Ailments," Says Konjola Man at the Walgreen Store.

Men and women in all walks of life are visiting the Konjola Man at the Walgreen Drug Store, 515 Olive street, St. Louis, to hear his personal explanation of the celebrated new medicine, Konjola. Countless modern people, regardless of their wealth or position, are suffering the same common ailments that arise from an unhealthy inner-system.

"Human suffering," said the Konjola Man, "afflicts the great same as it afflicts the mass of people. This new Konjola goes to the very source of common ailments. By helping nature it is far above many of the older known remedies. In this new day of science, a medicine must first cleanse the system of old toxic poisons, and this must be done thru the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Then the same medicine must strengthen and invigorate these organs to more healthy, normal action. It takes a lifetime to do these things. In making Konjola, we selected the juices from twenty-two of the finest medicinal plants and herbs. It is scientifically made in one of the largest modern laboratories.

"One of the first cases for which Konjola was used was kidney trouble—getting up frequently at nights. The man who took it came back the fourth day and said he slept all thru the previous night. We learned afterward that he had been doctoring over ten years for his trouble. In one case a man was crippled with poisoned kidneys. He hadn't left his home for eighteen months. He completed a few weeks treatment of Konjola and said he walked several blocks for the first time in two years. This, of course, was about three weeks after he completed Konjola. From this case, it was determined that Konjola would do wonders for kidneys, and one lady who had tried nearly everything for this trouble said that five bottles of Konjola had completely ended every ache and pain. She had previously taken mineral baths, electric treatments and medicine upon medicine without results. All of these are actual cases and can be verified by the signed statements in our possession.

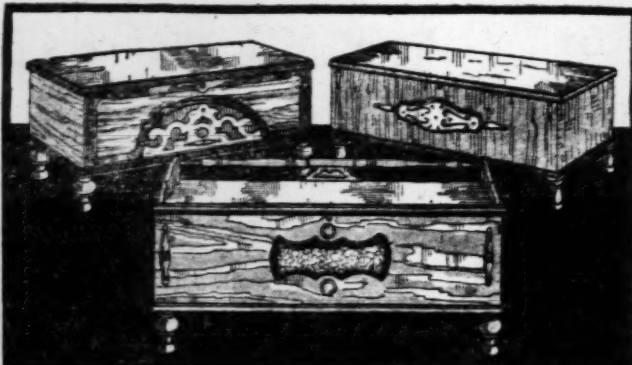

Another woman was treated with Konjola for stomach trouble. She said in five years she had spent several thousand dollars on her health. She was bedridden three days out of five, but shortly after she began with Konjola she could eat heartily of many things she hadn't dared to eat in years. Her food agreed with her and she continued Konjola a few weeks longer and gained nearly 20 pounds. She says she feels ten years younger, and her appearance certainly shows it. One lady told us that this new medicine did her more good than four years of special dieting. She took Konjola for nervousness and a general run-down system.

When Konjola is taken into the human system, there are 22 extracts from natural plants, and each one of these has a certain duty to perform on the functional organs—the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels—and the cleansing and invigorating of these organs is what brings such amazing relief and new feelings of health after long cases of suffering. The Konjola Man is at the Walgreen Drug Store, 515 Olive street, St. Louis, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

THINKS ROBBERS GAVE BACK $20,000 IN FEAR

St. Paul Police Chief Says Accomplice of Holdup Man Was Responsible.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 30.— Possibility that some one "on the inside" of the $20,000 Sweeney armored pay car holdup, fearing prosecution, had arranged to return the loot was being investigated today as Chief of Police E. J. Murnane began an official inquiry into the mysterious return last week of a large part of the money to surety companies which had paid the bank's losses.

Scouting the theory that the robbers themselves had voluntarily given up any part of their loot, Chief Murnane admitted that he was investigating the likelihood that "some other party" in some way involved in the gas bomb robbery and facing exposure, himself had paid back or forced the return of a substantial part of the money.

Other developments included: Promise of Attorney Mordant to disclose, as best he was able, the identity of the man who brought him the money; disclosure that the firm of Sexton, Mordant & Kennedy had been given the combined case by the surety companies after they had paid off the claims of the bank, to attempt to obtain compensation for the loss; further disclosure that before the money was paid back this law firm had threatened to bring civil action against the Sweeney Detective Agency on the ground that its guards' carelessness had made the robbery possible; denial by George F.
Cumrow of the Sweeney agency that his company had played any part in the return of the loot or that he had known anything about negotiations for its return.

Murnane said the law firm of Sexton, Mordant & Kennedy, through which the money was recovered, apparently acted in good faith. Although the money, according to Roy C. Mordant, was taken to the law office by "a tall, slender man" and paid in cash, the payment to three surety companies which the firm represented was made by company checks. The checks, according to local managers of the surety companies, the Hartford, the Fidelity and Deposit and the National, were accepted by these companies in satisfaction of their claims against the Sweeney Detective Agency.

Suit against this company had been threatened by Mordant's company in an effort to prove carelessness in handling the money, which was stolen by the four men armed with gas bombs, while being taken to the Drovers' State Bank and the Exchange State Bank of South St. Paul.

Mordant said he would be glad to give the chief all information he has, including names given him by the "go-between" who surrendered the money. Mordant insists, however, that he does not know the identity of this person and that he has no idea why the loot was returned.

The County Attorney's office said that there was no law to prevent any person who is robbed from getting his money. They said, however, that if in getting the money back he promised immunity from prosecution or endeavored in any way to aid criminals in escaping punishment he would be guilty of compounding a felony.

When the grand jury meets Dec.
6, it is expected that whatever evidence is available will be presented by the County Attorney's office and the Police Department.

VON DIRKSEN NEW GERMAN AMBASSADOR TO MOSCOW

Son of Former Prussian Diplomat Succeeds Late Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Nov. 30.—Dr. Herbert von Dirksen, chief of the eastern section of the Foreign Office, has been appointed German Ambassador to the Soviet Union at Moscow, to succeed the late Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau.

Dr. von Dirksen has been in the German diplomatic service 10 years. His father, who also was a diplomat, did not wish his son to follow the same career. Conse-

in the Prussian civil service instead.
As an officer in a Uhlans regiment he fought in the World War. He began his diplomatic career in 1918, when he went to Kiev as a

THEODORE W. MERTENS, ONCE WEALTHY 'ICE KING,' DIES AT 75

Succumbs After Illness of Several Years—Funeral Services Tomorrow.

Theodore W. Mertens, 75 years old, an ice and coal dealer, who once was wealthy, died yesterday at his residence, 1812 Corn Avenue, following an illness of several years.

In 1924, at a hearing at City Hall, at which he unsuccessfully sought additional compensation for property damage caused by the breaking of a sewer in 1906, Mertens exhibited old newspaper clippings describing him as the "Ice King of St. Louis." He declared he was penniless, although he once had been worth $500,000. He was seeking money to re-establish himself in the ice business, his plant at Fifteenth and Broadway, having been lost two years previously through bankruptcy. He said he had paid the city a total of $150,000 in water bills and taxes during his 50 years in business.

Mr. Mertens is survived by his widow, four sons and one daughter. Funeral services will be held at 8:30 a. m. tomorrow from the residence to Holy Ghost Church, with interment in Calvary Cemetery.

PROF. WUERPEL HIT BY AUTO, SUFFERS FRACTURE OF LEG

Prof. Edmund H. Wuerpel, 63 years old, director of the School of Fine Arts at Washington University, suffered a fractured left leg at 6:30 o'clock last night when he was struck by an automobile as he stepped into Lafayette avenue at Jefferson avenue to board a street car.

Prof. Wuerpel was knocked down by a machine driven east in Lafayette avenue by John H. Roach, 4547 Flad avenue. Roach took Prof. Wuerpel to City Hospital for emergency treatment, whence he was taken to Jewish Hospital, where an X-ray examination showed no fracture of the skull, as was at first feared. His condition is said to be favorable for recovery.

Prof. Wuerpel and Mrs. Wuerpel, who witnessed the accident, had visited friends in South St. Louis and were on their way home at 7707 Walling terrace, Clayton. Prof. Wuerpel's paintings have been exhibited here frequently.

RECAPTURED CONVICTS BOUND IN CHAIN FOR TRIP TO TEXAS

Officer From Huntsville Gets One Prisoner in Indiana, Two Here.

T. M. Allen, assistant warden at the Huntsville (Tex.) penitentiary, came to St. Louis today with 20 feet of heavy chain and one prisoner and departed with three prisoners wrapped in the chain from neck to waist.

"They won't escape this time," declared Allen. "And when they get back to Huntsville, they know what's coming to them."

Two of the prisoners, Jesse Parker and Stein Weathered, had been arrested here last week, and the third had been taken in custody at South Bend, Ind., where the assistant warden picked him up. They escaped from the prison several weeks ago by slugging a guard. Parker donned the guard's uniform and marched his fellow prisoners out through a gate, telling a guard: "I'm taking them out on a job." He carried a imitation revolver, carved out of wood and covered with tin foil.

While loose, Parker married a girl in Denver and, with Weathered, came to St. Louis to visit an uncle of the girl who lives here.

KEOKUK, Ia., Nov. 30.—S. J. Whitman, who finished seventh in the recent New York-to-Los Angeles air race, is in a Keokuk hospital with a fractured arm, suffered in a collision between his airplane and a haystack near Kahoka, Mo., Tuesday. He was taking off from a field when his plane struck a five-foot stack.

Three companions were uninjured. Hospital officials said Whitman would be in the hospital six weeks.

FORMER GROCER WINS $290,000 PATENT SUIT

J. C. Scrivner Gets Verdict Against Foundry Company for Rivet Furnace.

John C. Scrivner of Camden, N. J., a stock promoter and former pipefitter and grocer at Madison, Ill., won a jury verdict in Circuit Judge Hamilton's court Wednesday evening for $290,000 against the American Car & Foundry Co., in a suit on a contract based on the use of his patented hydro-carbon furnace for heating rivets.

The contract, he alleged, called for payment of $200,000 at the expiration of 12 years, dating from 1911, and the verdict carried interest amounting to $90,000, and a further sum of $40,000 to reimburse Scrivner for legal expenses of the suit.

Scrivner, who formerly was employed in the plant of the defendant company at Madison, contended his inventions saved the company $1000 a day, but he never received any compensation. The device he patented changed the method of feeding oil into the furnaces, and his patent, he alleged, was used in various plants of the American Car & Foundry Co. until about 1923, when oil furnaces were discarded for electric furnaces.

Denies Contract Was Made.
The company contended that no such contract ever was made with Scrivner while admitting that his patent was tried, it asserted it was found not serviceable. However, several former employees who were called by Scrivner testified they had seen his furnaces used, and they appeared to be rendering good service. On the other hand, employees called by the company said the furnaces in use were the same kind that had been used for years before Scrivner got his patent.

Scrivner, who is now 48 years old, alleged that his contract was signed by the late Robert L. Fogleman, general superintendent of the plant. The original contract, it was said, was stolen from a safe at the former plant of the Scrivner Fire-clay Products Co., at Gerald, Mo., five years ago. Over objection of the defense, counsel for the plaintiff was permitted to introduce a copy of the alleged agreement. In addition to denying the contract the defense contended that even if it had been signed it was not valid, since Fogleman had no authority to make such a contract.

Tells of Writing Agreement.
Because Fogleman is dead Scrivner was unable to testify concerning the making of the contract, but evidence on this subject was given by his brother and a stenographer in a lawyer's office at Madison, who said they were present when the paper was signed. The stenographer testified that the lawyer, who since has died, dictated the contract to her as she transcribed it on a typewriter.

Scrivner at the trial was represented by the law firm of Foristel, Mudd, Blair & Habenicht and Harvey B. Cox; by the verdict they are entitled to the award for legal expenses. The defense attorneys were the company's general counsel, Charles Hardy of New York.

Missouri Lady Proves Claim

Children don't ordinarily take to medicines, but here's one that all of them love. Perhaps it shouldn't be called a medicine at all. It's more like a rich, concentrated food. It's pure, wholesome, sweet to the taste and sweet in your child's little stomach. It builds up and strengthens weak, puny, underweight children, makes them eat heartily, brings the roses back to their cheeks, makes them playful, energetic, full of life. And no bilious, headachy, constipated, feverish, fretful baby or child ever failed to respond to the gentle influence of California Fig Syrup on their little bowels. It starts lazy bowels quick, cleans them out thoroughly, tones and strengthens them so they continue to act normally or their own accord.

Millions of mothers know about California Fig Syrup from experience. A Missouri mother, Mrs. O. Dieringer, 4332 Oregon Ave., St. Louis, says: "California Fig Syrup is certainly what I claimed for it. I have proved that with my little son, Ted. He was a bottle baby and very delicate. His bowels were weak. I started him on Fig Syrup when he was a few months old and it regulated him quick. I have used it with him ever since for colds and every little set back and his wonderful condition tells better than words how it helps."

Don't be imposed on. See that the Fig Syrup you buy bears the name "California" so you'll get the genuine, famous for 50 years.

BOSWELL GIVES BOND
ON LIQUOR CHARGES

Three Others, Jointly Indicted With Williamson County Prosecutor, Also Post Bail.

By the Associated Press.
BENTON, Ill., Nov. 30.—Arlie Boswell, State's Attorney of Williamson County, gave bond of $10,000 Wednesday on a Federal indictment charging him with conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws. He appeared before Paul Jones, United States Commissioner, here. The warrants were served by Deputy United States Marshal John Smith today.

With Boswell was George Bell, Williamson County Coroner, jointly indicted, who also gave bond. Two others, Thomas Boyd, former Marion Chief of Police, and Hezlie Byrn, former Johnston City Police Chief, likewise gave bond for the same amount.

Boswell said the charges were "a frame-up," but Bell was non-committal.

Four other men, jointly indicted, have also given bond before Commissioner Jones. They are Pete Salmi, Frank Calchiera, Charles Valossi and Dominik Loni.

The indictment also named Connie Ritter and Freddie Wooten, former Birger gangsters, and charges all of them with conspiracy.

Boswell is also charged with having been "cut in" on thousands of dollars allegedly collected by the Birger gang from resort keepers and bartenders in his county.

BEARS OUTGAINED BY BILLIKENS, WIN ANNUAL GRID GAME, 6 TO 0

WHITTILLER RUNS 32 YARDS FOR TOUCHDOWN AFTER RECOVERING FUMBLE; 12,960 SEE BATTLE

By Jack Alexander

If there is any satisfaction in the knowledge that one has taken on a bulkier opponent, under conditions favorable to him, and pushed him all around the ring, and if that knowledge can take the keen edge off what is becoming a traditional defeat, then St. Louis University can grin when it thinks of the 6 to 0 game it lost to Washington yesterday at Sportsman's Park. But human nature's love of victory being what it is, the Bears are probably feeling a lot better today than the Billikens.

Consider what the Billikens were up against and what they did. Playing on a slippery field which favored the Bears and their 12-pound weight advantage decidedly, the Billikens outgained the Bears from scrimmage 245 yards to 85, or 3 to 1; on straight rushing, 172 yards to 85, and on forward passing, 73 yards to none. They earned 16 first downs to 3 for the Bears, who gained an additional one with the aid of a five-yard penalty. In only one department of the game did the Bears excel and that was in runbacks of various kinds, the victors leading with 99 yards to the losers' 44.

But fortune laughs at statistics occasionally and it happened that when the wet ball slipped out of the grasp of Captain Dirnberger of the Billikens, an end run in the third quarter, it plopped smack into the mitts of Ted Whittiller of Washington who had a clear field for an easy 32-yard run to a touchdown.

Billiken Line Surprises. The twist in the luck was particularly ironical since the heaviest Washington back had been expected to play havoc with the Billiken line on the muddy field and was stopped consistently throughout the game.

The surprisingness of the St. Louis line was one of the most surprising features of the afternoon, even more surprising than the lack of power shown by Washington on offense. Evidently figuring that the playing conditions favored a straightaway smashing attack, Washington hammered its poundage at the St. Louis line incessantly. Only one forward pass was thrown by the Bears. But the line attack yielded just seven yards in the first quarter, 42 in the second, 12 in the third and 24 in the fourth. And the one pass grounded.

St. Louis' offense was consistent throughout, 53 yards being gained in the first quarter, 39 in the second, 76 in the third and 77 in the fourth. Joe Lintzenich was the wheel-horse of the Billiken attack, besides plugging the gaps on defense and outpunching Rawdon. In fact, without Lintzenich's savage smashes through the line and his running of the ends, the 12,960 spectators would have had to sit through a pretty dull, dark, foggy, wet, cold and rainy afternoon, without having had anything to talk about when they got home.

Billiken Offensive Fails to Function When in Shadow of Enemy Goal Line

All this statistical figuring is not to say that St. Louis deserved a victory. No team whose offense fails to function in the shadow of the enemy goal, regardless of how impressive its march down the field has been, can claim even a moral victory. But it is to say that, taken by and large, the St. Louis eleven of yesterday afternoon was a classier and more powerful team than Washington, and the fact that it was outplayed in the playing conditions which militated in Washington's favor.

In fact, now that the season is over, it may be fairly stated that the St. Louis U. record for the season has provided more hope to local fandom for eventual deliverance from the doldrums than Washington's. The writer saw St. Louis in three contests, and in two of these, against Creighton and Washington, the Billikens showed on numerous occasions the polish of a big league eleven, though still falling a good distance short of the public ideal. In six Washington games observed, the Bears never did hit their true stride, that is, what seemed natural to the expert of such a hefty crew, barring possibly the Kansas game. Many factors contributed to this condition, among them the loss of men like Comstock and Harnett and the fact that Bickel did not come out until midseason.

Billikens Are Penalized. St. Louis took the reins in the first quarter of yesterday's game and, although outgaining the Bears 53 yards to 7 and gaining three first downs to none, found themselves at the end of the period in possession of the ball on their own 20-yard line. Taking the opening kickoff, Lintzenich gained 15 yards on two plunges. Dirnberger added two more, and then Lintzenich caught a pass from Eaton and ran it for a gain of 26 yards. But the offense was checked near the Bear 35-yard line and Lintzenich's punt was knocked down, Rawdon running it back almost to his 40-yard line. Punters were exchanged three times, with Lintzenich's gains being offset by fumbles, and a 15-yard penalty for holding, pushing the Billikens far into their own territory.

In the second quarter following an interchange of kicks, the Bears made their best offensive effort of the game, a 25-yard advance, which was stopped on the 10-yard Line where Duncan called for a kick from placement which Whittiller missed. The remainder of the period was uneventful.

Shortly after the kickoff in the third quarter, the Washington touchdown was made. Whittiller's kickoff went into the end zone and St. Louis took the ball on the 20-yard line. A first down was made, chiefly on Eaton's work, and then the big break came.

Dirnberger came sweeping around end. He squeezed the slippery ball too hard and it flew out of his hands—straight into the mitts of Whittiller, on the fly. Whittiller ran for a touchdown without any getting close enough to tag him. He missed the try for extra points, but the ball was in the end zone. Parilla ran back the next kickoff 15 yards and in a series of bucks and end runs Lintzenich, virtually single-handed as far as packing the ball was concerned, tore off three consecutive first downs in bucks of four and six yards. It was a great display of bucking power. Inside Washington territory, Rawdon intercepted a pass but when he punted on third down, the ball was called back and given the Billikens on the 33-yard line because a Washington linesman had held. Bucks by Dirnberger, Eaton and Lintzenich made first down on the 20-yard line but when a pass was tried, following losses on two line plays, Whittiller intercepted and ran the ball back to midfield. Eaton's perfect tackle heading off "hat looked like another touchdown. The Bears were again unable to gain and Rawdon punted to Parilla, who returned 14 yards. Lintzenich swept around end for 15 yards and added six more around the other side but a bad snapback lost 10 yards and Lintzenich's punt was blocked so that the Bears, at the end of the third quarter, were ahead, 6 to 0, and had the ball on the St. Louis 36-yard line.

Lintzenich's Long Punt. In the fourth period, when Rawdon punted into the end zone, Lintzenich got off the best punt of the game. It cleared the safety man's head, a terrific boot in spite of the heavy ball, and stopped on the Bears' six-yard line, after traveling 70 yards. This gave the Billikens another scoring chance, when Rawdon punted out, but Lintzenich was tagged from carrying the

Six Billikens and Five Bear Stars on All-Collegiate Team

The attendance, held down by wretched weather, was 12,960, official. This number passed through the turnstiles, paid and complimentary, it was said. The crowd was far below those of previous years.

Heavy fog and approaching darkness made the players almost indistinguishable in the last period. Mud covered the green and blue jerseys but the red headgear of the Bears was still visible.

Washington rooters made a dash for the blue and white draped goal post at the close of the game and after a long battle with mounted police, finally dismantled it and carried it home.

There never has been a cleaner battle fought on a St. Louis grid. At no stage of the game did any of the four officials have to warn Bear 6 for roughness of play. The fighting throughout was hard enough to please either coach, but with both teams, the spirit of true sportsmanship prevailed and helped form another link in the chain binding together the two universities in athletic relations.

Some day a plan will be devised whereby spectators can know for what a penalty is imposed. For instance, in the third quarter, the Bears had the ball, third down, on about their own 35-yard line. Rawdon kicked out of bounds but the ball was brought back and given to St. Louis. Why? Because a Washington player had been detected holding while the ball was in the air. Not a usual or ordinary penalty and one which might have benefited most of those in the stands.

The following is one guess at an all-star St. Louis collegiate team: Scheib, Washington, center; Jablonsky, Washington, and Schwartz, St. Louis, guards; Paris, Washington, and Cornell, St. Louis, tackles; Browning and F. Brown, St. Louis, ends; Duncan, Washington, quarterback; Bickel, Washington, and Dirnberger, St. Louis, fullbacks.

Milton Ghee, who refereed, was, while at Dartmouth a decade or so ago, one of the greatest quarterbacks of all time. He was All-America choice. He's heavier by 30 pounds than he was in his playing days but follows the ball cleverly.

The Billikens shot through with substitutes, tore off an astounding sustained drive which totaled 63 yards and was halted on the Washington 15-yard line when Coover threw Naidorf for a 10-yard loss and Duncan intercepted a desperate pass just before the final gun was fired. This last advance consisted chiefly of a 13-yard pass, Eaton to Ford Brown; a nice 12-yard gain around end by Kimmel, and a long 28-yard heave by Naidorf, of which Gazella made a leaping catch.

Niemic Is Likely To Play in Game Against U. S. C.

TUCSON, Ariz., Nov. 30.—The scrappiest team Knute Rockne ever has coached at Notre Dame, according to his own statement, will carry the football banner of the South Bend institution into the inter-sectional struggle at Los Angeles tomorrow with Southern California.

A word of cheer was forthcoming from the team physician who said John "Butch" Niemic ought to be in shape for the game. He declared the Rambler halfback apparently had suffered a misplaced vertebra in his neck two weeks ago, but that the bone had been snapped back into place.

St. Louis was penalized several times for off-side play. The Bears had a "floating back" formation which had the Bills guessing for a time and caused some of this over-anxiety on the part of the Blue and White forwards.

Until the fourth quarter there were few substitutions. With 10 minutes of play remaining, the Billikens rushed reserves into action for Davidson, Browning, Eddie Brown and Parilla. The Bears used two pairs of ends and a tackle in Drake's place toward the end. Most of the Washington team went through though Whittiller's "kick" nearly caused his removal at one stage in the second half.

Davidson, the Billiken center, was playing in his second game of the year. He took part in the Bills' first scrap but was put out of action by appendicitis soon thereafter. "Davey" did not give way to Corcoran until the middle of the final quarter.

ST. LOUIS TAKES LEAD IN AMERICAN ASSOCIATION HOCKEY RACE

LOCAL SIX HAS FOUR POINTS AS RESULT OF TWO VICTORIES IN SERIES WITH MINNEAPOLIS TEAM

By W. J. McGoogan

St. Louis' professional ice hockey team is in undisputed possession of first place in the American Hockey Association this morning, having won two games and lost none, giving Alex Irvin's crew total of four points, while Kansas City is second with three points. Paul and Duluth are tied for third place with two points each. Three points are credited for each win, while a tie occurs when a team receives one point and a defeat, of course, no credit is given.

The incentive for the players to do as they share in the gate receipts of the playoff contests which are played between the teams standing first, second and third after each club has played two games.

How the Players Fare. Of the gate receipts of all these games, 25 per cent goes to the players. Fifty per cent of the receipts goes to the team which finishes first in the final regular season. The winner of the championship club receives a trophy in addition to the share of the gate receipts.

Standing of Teams

Team	W.	L.	T.	Pts.
St. Louis	2	0	0	4
Kansas City	1	0	1	3
St. Paul	1	1	0	2
Duluth	1	1	0	2
Tulsa	0	1	1	1

Notes of the Game

There was lots of rough work in the game but Referee Conroy, wishing to keep things going at top speed, managed to miss all of it until the second period when he chased Benson of Minneapolis off the ice for a cross check. That was the only penalty in that period and there had been none at all in the first.

Local Come From Behind. Irvin's men also had an opportunity to show that they could come from behind as Minneapolis scored a goal six minutes after the first period opened. St. Louis scored three minutes afterward to tie the count and within four minutes after that another goal gave the locals the lead. They added another marker in the second period and a fourth one in the final period.

Stuart First to Score. Immediately after the opening St. Louis carried the attack into St. Louis territory and Anderson was called upon to clear away from the goal by Miller.

Four minutes after this Ralph Taylor dribbled the puck through the whole Minneapolis squad and into St. Louis in the lead two to one with an accurate shot into the net.

There were raids on each goal in the second period but nothing really serious happened except that both goalkeepers and defense men were given opportunities to shine by turning back one offensive after the other but after 17 minutes of play Vic La Pointe scored the third St. Louis goal out of a scrimmage in front of the Minneapolis net.

In the third period the Millers went on the ice determined to score but were turned back time after time. St. Louis did not give the idea of scoring again and finally La Pointe made good on a shot but unfortunately the referee's bell had sounded for an offense shortly before and the score was not counted. Shortly thereafter, however, Curly Headley took the puck in his own hands and fired the fourth and final St. Louis goal into the Miller net after dribbling almost the length of the rink through the Minneapolis team.

What Ails 'Em?

In the football season now closing, one of the really remarkable features has been the decline of goal-kicking. As pointed out some days ago, on a "big" Saturday, only one field goal was booted in thirty major games; and of tries for points after touchdowns almost two-thirds were failures.

The Point That Wins. THAT is an indictment of the accuracy of the kicking to football, apparently, and would seem to suggest more attention to this particular form of football scoring.

Some Season. INTERESTED in the Post-Dispatch reference of last Wednesday to Cochrane's first forward-passing team, at St. Louis University, in 1906, a correspondent asks us to print the team's full record for that year.

Praise for Manush. GORDON COCHRANE, the Athletics' great catcher, who received the award of the American League "most valuable player" commission, of which the writer is a member, hands a nice bouquet to Helme Manush of the Browns, in a letter to the writer. In part Cochrane says:

Meihrie showed the only flashes of brilliance the Missouri backs had to offer. However, individual lapses for the day went to Bob Fields, Oklahoma center, who roved far and wide, battling down short passes at will, or slipping through line to down a Missouri runner before he could get going.

Griffiths makes his debut in New York against Jim Braddock. Griffiths was a heavy favorite to win chiefly because he is a much harder hitter than Braddock. The latter was one of Gene Tunney's sparring mates last summer when the now retired heavyweight champion was preparing for his match with Tom Heeney.

Divide batter in two parts, adding chocolate mixture to one of the parts. 7. Drop batter by teaspoonfuls into floured and greased cake tin alternating a spoonful of white batter with a spoonful of chocolate batter until all is used. 8. Bake. TIME: Bake 50 minutes. TEMPERATURE: 350° F., moderate oven.
SIZE OF PAN: One large pan 12½x8½ inches or 2 loaf pans 4x8 inches. AMOUNT: 24 servings. Leaving for Marble Cake: 2 cups sugar, ¼ cup water, ¼ cup cream of tartar, 2 egg whites, 1 tsp. vanilla, 1 sq. chocolate, melted. METHOD: 1. Boil sugar, water and cream of tartar together until first indication of a thread appears, 234° F. 2. Four hot syrup over stiffly beaten egg whites and beat with egg beater constantly. 3. Add vanilla and continue beating with spoon until mixture is fluffy and will hold its shape (about 15 minutes). 4. If this mixture does not set so that it will stay on cake, add 2 or 3 tsp. powdered sugar, a tsp. at a time until mixture is stiff enough. 5. Reserve 1 tsp. of this mixture and spread rest over top and sides of cake. 6. Melt chocolate and add reserved icing. Spread chocolate mixture over white frosting on top of cake in ¼-inch strips about 1 inch apart. Then draw a knife quickly across the strips at 1-inch intervals. This gives a wavy, marbled effect.

A FEW SUGGESTIONS FOR

DAINTY WINTER SALADS

Salads Are Just as Important in the Winter Diet as in the Summer

1. Pineapple and Cabbage.—Shred cabbage and cut pineapple in small pieces. Mix with cream salad dressing.

2. Date and Apple.—Use stoned dates, stuffed with nuts. Arrange star fashion and pile on top firm sweet apples cut in about one-third inch cubes. Serve with any desired salad dressing.

3. Cherry and Cheese.—Cut canned cherries in two. Remove stones and press on each side of a small ball of well-seasoned cream cheese. Arrange on leaves of lettuce and serve with any desired dressing.

4. Canned Pineapple.—Place a slice of canned pineapple on a lettuce leaf. Cut a small banana in half cross-wise and set upright on the pineapple. Salad dressing can be poured sparingly down the sides of the banana to represent wax and a bright red cherry on top for the flame.

5. Stuffed Pear Salad.—Fill a canned half pear with well-seasoned cottage or cream cheese. Place pears cut side down on lettuce leaves. Stick whole cloves in the stem, sprinkle with paprika to give the appearance of a ripening pear. Serve with whipped cream or other dressing.

How to Care for a Broom.

RECIPES FOR DISHES IN WEEK'S MENUS

When Fresh Vegetables and Fruits Are Not Available Use Canned.

Beef, lamb or pork liver is expensive than calves' liver and can be used just as well in this recipe. Have one and one-half pounds of liver cut in slices one-half inch thick. Rinse with boiling water, drain thoroughly, sprinkle with flour, salt and pepper and brown quickly in a little hot fat. Put the liver in a deep baking dish with a half cup each of diced carrot, sliced onion, white turnip and celery. Add one-half teaspoon of salt, a little pepper, two tablespoons tomato catsup and two cups of boiling water. Cover the dish and bake slowly for one and one-half hours. Baked Lima Beans and Tomatoes. The use of dried lima beans makes this an economical dish, and one that has high food value. Soak two cups of dried lima beans overnight in cold water to cover. In the morning drain, add fresh boiling water, one-fourth teaspoon of baking soda and one small onion, and boil slowly for one hour or until the beans are tender. Drain, add two cups of canned tomatoes, one tablespoon chopped green pepper, one or more teaspoons of salt. Sprinkle one cup of soft bread-crumbs over the top, and dot with two tablespoons of butter cut in small pieces. Bake 30 to 40 minutes in a moderate oven. Instead of the butter, thin strips of bacon may be spread over the crumbs. If this is done, the bacon must be added eight to 10 minutes before the beans are done.

Fruit Charlotte.
This is a good recipe for using up stale cake, though if none is on hand, the package indyfinders or baker's sponge cake may be used instead. Scald two cups of milk. Mix together one-third cup of sugar and one tablespoonful of cornstarch. Beat two eggs until very light and add them to the cornstarch and sugar. Stir the scalded milk into this mixture, adding it gradually. Spread slice of stale cake with any preferred jam of jelly or with the pulp of stewed dried apricots. Arrange a layer of these slices in a serving dish and cover with some of the hot custard mixture. Make alternate layers of cake and custard until the dish is full. Chill and serve plain or with a garnish of whipped cream.

Mushrooms on Toast.
For four people allow one-half pound of mushrooms and two cups of canned tomatoes. Put the tomatoes with one teaspoon of sugar, one teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of chopped onions, a sprig of parsley and two whole cloves in a saucepan and cook slowly for 15 minutes. Thicken with two tablespoons of flour rubbed to a paste with a little cold water. While the tomatoes are cooking wash the mushrooms, peel the caps and scrape the stems. Melt three tablespoons of butter, add the mushrooms, cover and cook slowly for eight minutes. Toast four slices of bread, arrange on a hot platter, cover with the stewed tomatoes and then with the sautéed mushrooms. Garnish with parsley and serve very hot.

HOLIDAY SHEPHERD

Make it according to the following directions: Use one can apricots, one pint sweet cider, three oranges, one cup heavy whipping cream, one cup cranberry juice, one lemon, sugar, one teaspoon vanilla, two egg whites and candied cranberries.

Pass the apricots through a sieve or fruit press, also the sauce if it is used instead of the cider. Combine the pulps with the juices, add sugar to taste, making it a little sweeter than it to be served unfrozen, turn into a freezer and freeze to a mushy consistency. Then fold in the stiffly whipped whites of the eggs and beat up. Pack down in ice and salt for an hour or more. Serve in glasses with a spoonful of whipped cream flavored with vanilla on top of each service and garnish with candied cranberries.

FRUIT BAVARIAN CREAM

An Enticing Dessert for a Company Luncheon or Dinner.
Soak two tablespoons of gelatin in one-fourth cup of cold water for five minutes, then dissolve it in one-fourth cup of scalded milk. Add one-half cup of sugar and stir until the sugar is dissolved. Cold the mixture until it begins to thicken, which should be in about five minutes. Then fold in two stiffly beaten egg whites and one-half pint of cream, whipped stiff, one cup of drained crushed pineapple, and one-half cup of prunes cut in small pieces. Two or three tablespoons of chopped nuts may also be added if desired. Pour the mixture in a cold wet mould and set aside to chill.

STUFFED PEPPERS MAKE A NICE DISH

They Save Food, Time and Food Value.

Select six large, sweet green peppers of an even size and shape.
Drop them into boiling water to teaspoon of baking soda and let them boil for five minutes, then drain and cool. Cut slivers from the top, and remove the seeds and stem. Mix together one and one-half cups of cooked rice, one tablespoon of minced onion, one cup of cooked shrimp broken in pieces (canned may be used), two tablespoons of melted butter, and a little minced parsley, one-half t-spoon of Worcestershire sauce, and one beaten egg. Stuff the peppers with this mixture, and sprinkle a few dried buttered bread crumbs over the top of each one. Place close together in a deep baking pan, and cover the bottom of the pan with boiling water. Bake in a moderate oven—375 degrees—for 35 minutes or until tender and browned on top.

Peppers and Sauerkraut.
Remove the stem and seeds boiling salted water five minutes.

Fill with this stuffing—To one cup

Pineapple Rice made with Libby's Hawaiian Pineapple and Libby's Maraschino Cherries (see recipe below)

Summery freshness for fall and winter menus

No need to fear your meals will lose any color or zest with the advancing season, if you serve unusual dishes like these. Dainty fruit desserts that add a summery, joy-of-living freshness to any menu.

Fruit desserts are always popular. But these three I have found especially so. Pineapple, peaches and pears in novel, appealing arrangements. Listen in on the comments that greet these dishes; you'll find them highly flattering.

For enticing, sun-ripened fruits that fit just perfectly into any picture of flavorful delicacy, use Libby's. They make the finest combinations taste even better.

There is Libby's Hawaiian Pineapple—field-ripened under mellow, penetrating tropic sun. Big, juicy slices without blemish. Libby's Peaches, firm, delicate, cleanly pitted. Plucked at full maturity in the sun-washed valleys of California. And Libby's Bartlett Pears from the golden orchards of Oregon and California. Smooth, mild flavored, finely textured.

For the hurried Saturday luncheon
A thousand and one things to attend to—over-Sunday shopping—husband and the children home for lunch. Small wonder Saturday meals seem so bothersome!

Here is just the thing to serve at noon on this busy day. An old-time favorite with a sprightly note of novelty—Pork and Bean Toasted Cheese Sandwich. It's ready in a jiffy.

For rich, spicy flavor that blends perfectly with the nippy tang of toasted cheese, use Libby's Pork and Beans. Cooked by special process that leaves them whole and delightfully tender. You'll find more than one serving always in order.

She Quit Taking Soda—Stomach Fine

"I often took soda for relief from gas pains and indigestion. But since taking Adierka, the gas is all gone and I feel fine."—Mrs. C. Dasher, Adierka, a simple glycerin, buck-thorn bark, saline compound, acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and brings out foul matter you would never believe was in your system. This old matter may have poisoned you for months and caused GAS, sour stomach, headache or nervousness.

Try this simple fact: Take any medicine which acts on lower bowel only—most laxatives do. After your bowels have moved, take Adierka and in a short time you will be astonished at how much MORE sour old matter and GAS is brought out.

Dr. H. L. Shoup, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adierka checks the growth of intestinal bacteria." Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to excel Adierka." J. E. Puckett: "After using Adierka I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated."

Give your stomach and bowels a REAL cleansing with Adierka and see how good you feel! Just ONE spoonful relieves GAS and chronic constipation. At leading druggists. Sold in St. Louis by Wolff-Wilson Drug Stores. Send for FREE check-board. Adierka, Dept. 7-26, St. Paul, Minn.

HELD IN JAIL BREAK PLOT

Woman Arrested After Saws Sent to Sweetheart Are Intercepted.
By the Associated Press.
NEWPORT, Ky., Nov. 30.—Mary Jackson, 24 years old, of Waukegan, Ill., has been arrested here in connection with an alleged plot to liberate her sweetheart, Jack Crawford, formerly of Covington, Ky., from the Newport jail, where he is held on a murder indictment. The plot came to light, County Attorney Roger L. Neff Jr. said, when a shipment of three dozen saws from Hammond, Ind., was intercepted.

Neff said a confession was obtained from the girl after her arrest implicating Crawford in the slaying of Constable William Tressler near here Sept. 16, the shooting of a Covington policeman during a grocery store robbery and the wounding of a Louisville policeman Sept. 29 in a revolver fight which followed several holdups.

When Pain Comes

Two hours after eating

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food stays in the stomach. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acid instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids, 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade-Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Rheumatism now treated a new way. Results amazing

Stops pain by removing the cause. No rubbing. No opiates. No distasteful drugs, or dieting.

Reports on the new treatment for Rheumatism fully confirm its great record abroad, where for many years it has been celebrated. The following letter is reproduced because it is typical of the results obtained in more than a thousand cases that have now been treated in this and neighboring localities:

"I had been a sufferer from Rheumatism for many years and had tried every remedy I had heard of, but without obtaining relief. So, when a friend told me about your new treatment called Rugenol I was not interested, having just about decided to go to a sanatorium. But my friend would not take me. He brought a bottle of Rugenol and simply made me take the treatment. I had very little faith even then for I took only a few drops and in a very short time the pain was gone. The following day was nothing of amazing. The second day I was entirely free of pain and was up and around. For many months now I have not had the slightest trace of pain. You are free to publish this letter, as I shall be glad to tell anyone my experience. (Signed) BEN J. SWARTZBERG, 4214 Prospect Ave., Kansas City, Mo."

American rights to the new treatment have been secured under the name of RUGENOL. Rugenol is a 3-day treatment; not just a Rheumatism medicine. Many have exactly Mr. Swartzberg's experience with mere medicine. Rugenol is different. It is taken only a few drops at a time in a large glass of drinking water. Hence there is no disturbance of the natural health processes of the body. The Rugenol treatment works in full harmony with Nature's constant effort to restore health. A method today urged by the best medical thought.

Rugenol may now be obtained from your regular druggist, or any Wolff-Wilson or Walgreen drug store. And direct by mail from Rugenol Corporation, St. Louis, Mo.

THE WAY —OF— A WOMAN

—By—
Marguerite Mooers Marshall

A WOMAN'S HARDEST JOB.

WHAT man hath done woman can do, seems, at the present moment, to be our sex slogan. Flying the Atlantic, swimming the Channel, running a big business, writing a great novel, winning political office—these achievements are no longer limited to the male of the species. Woman after woman takes what has been considered a man's difficult job and does it as well as a man—if not better. Meanwhile, women keep on doing the jobs they have always done. Nobody can accuse us of skipping our admiration for the new and unusual things today's women do—the feats that make the headlines. But do you know what we think is still woman's hardest job? Just this—being married to a great man!

Advice about the man they should choose as a husband is so often handed out to girls. The only general rule of which we feel pretty confident is a negative one. "Don't," we tell our daughters, "don't, what ever you do, marry a man who's going to be famous—famous, especially, as a writer! You'll be asking for trouble, and you'll get plenty!" "Wives of great men all remind us They should leave their wives at home!" wrote a sarcastic parodist; but, the more we or any woman can read of the lives of great men, the more we are convinced that their wives are objects of pity, not of scorn. Three striking illustrations of this truth have recently been given to the public.

FIRST, there is the plea in defense of his long-suffering mother offered by Ilya, son of the great Tolstoy, the centenary of whose birth has just been celebrated. Ever since we read "The Kreutzer Sonata," we have pitied the wife of this morbidly sex-obsessed author. He was, you may remember, the father of 13 children, whom his wife devotedly mothered. More than that, she was his loyal helper for 45 years, not only managing his most difficult household but acting as his literary drudge.

As the Evening World said editorially, "The average American woman would not have tolerated his scheme of living for a month." What did Tolstoy's wife get for her sacrifices for her great husband? Anything but a peaceful and comfortable life, or even affectionate appreciation; and posthumous abuse as one of the wives who failed to "understand" genius. The wife of a Babbitt may easily know more real happiness!

THEN, there is the life Charles Dickens seems to have led his wife. For particulars, women may consult that fascinating new story-biography of the novelist, C. E. Bechhofer Roberts' "This Side Idyllic." It is declared to be founded on facts and family records hitherto unpublished.

Mrs. Dickens was the exhausted and too early aged mother of 10 children, five of them born in less than eight years. Dickens couldn't even bear to stay at home during the "domestic inconvenience" of her confinements. He rarely consulted her about anything, even about buying or furnishing their home. He lavished money on the sycophants in whose admiration he basked, then rebuked his wife for extravagance. He flirted publicly with younger women, and apparently was more devoted to both his sisters-in-law than to his wife. She understood why—it was the restlessly imaginative and dissatisfied temperament of genius. "Whom ever he married, he would despise—just because he married her."

Give us, for preference, an unillustrious but decently considerate and comradely American editor as a husband!

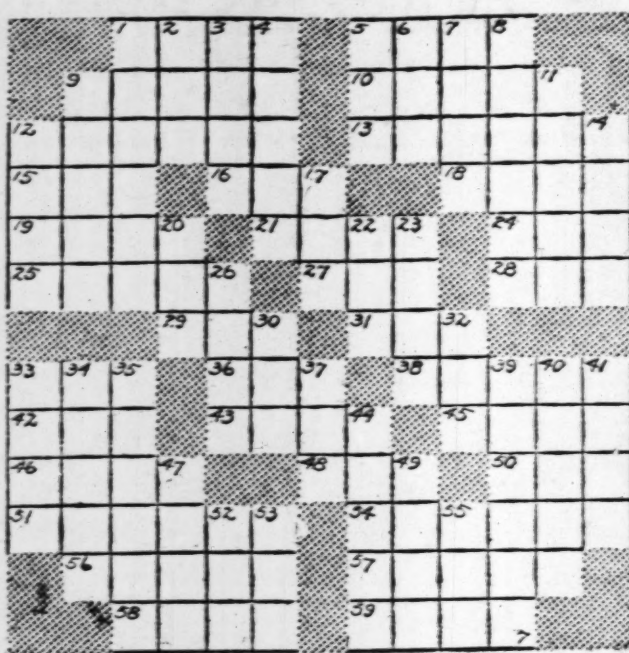

FINALLY, there has just been put on record the remarkable admission, by a great man, of the difficult lot of a great man's wife. H. G. Wells, whose wife, Catherine, died about a year ago, writes the candid and moving preface to "The Book of Catherine Wells," a charming collection of her stories and poems. Paying tribute to this "sweet and valiant little figure," Wells confesses: "I am a far less stable creature than she was. . . I am hasty and incompetent about much of the detailed business of life. . . Invariably we strained against each other. . . And I am appalled to reflect how much of the patience, courage and sacrifice of my compromise came from her. . . She managed to sustain her belief that I was worth living for, and that was a harder task, while I made my way through a tangle of moods and impulses that were quite outside her instinctive sympathy."

"She stuck to me so sturdily that in the end I stuck to myself. I do not know what I should have been without her. She stabilized my life. She gave it a home and dignity. She preserved its continuity. Not without constant watchfulness and toil."

Yes, but why should most of the burden and sacrifice of marital adjustment have lain upon the shoulders of Mrs. Wells? Why should she have had to carry the banners of loyalty and stability? Why should not a man do as much for his wife as she does for him?

If being a genius lets him out from being a good husband, the more bachelor-geniuses the better! (Copyright, 1928.)

Children's Bedtime Story

BUSTER RETURNS.

Who runs away from what he's done
Will find his troubles just begun.
—Old Mother Nature.

THE trouble with people who take chances is that when they have successfully taken a chance they are all the more ready to take another chance. They lose caution. They may have done very foolish, perhaps dangerous things, but having successfully done it, they are ready to do it over again, or something else equally foolish.

So it was with Buster Bear. He had caught and carried away a pig from a little farm on the back side of the Great Mountain. That pig had furnished him his Thanksgiving dinner. It was the first time his stomach had been completely filled since the berry season. A full stomach is a very good feeling. The taste of that pig had been delicious. The delicious taste and the good feeling of the full stomach made Buster feel that never in all his life had he enjoyed a meal quite so much.

When Buster awoke after his long nap he was feeling in fine spirits. He wasn't hungry then, but for all that, he kept thinking about the pig. "It's the nicest meal I ever ate," said Buster, talking to himself. "I suppose I ought to keep away from those pigs, but I certainly would like another dinner like the one I had. I wish pigs lived in the woods, instead of over in pens close to the homes of those two-legged creatures called men. I do so. Two or three more pig dinners would put me in splendid condition to sleep through this winter. I don't suppose it would be safe to go back there again right away. Probably it would be a very foolish thing to do, but there are more pigs over there, and—"

But presently Buster began to have a little common sense. He realized that very likely the farmer who owned those pigs would be lying in wait for him or would have set a trap for him. "No," said Buster to himself, "as good as pig is, it really isn't worth the risk. No, sir, it really isn't worth the risk. I guess the best thing for me to do is to start along on my way. If I hang around here long, I shall get into trouble. Trouble is the last thing in the world that I want. So I guess I'll go along."

So Buster started along. Having his stomach full, he was in no particular hurry to get anywhere, so he just loafed along. Once he stopped and climbed 'way up to the top of a tall tree, just to have a look around over the country.

That was where he made a mistake. That tall tree was on a hill, and he could look over the forest. Away off in the distance, in the direction from which he had come, he saw a little farm. He could see the house, and he could see the barn. At that distance they looked like toys. But he knew that little farm for just what it was. He knew it for the home of those delectable pigs. The sight of it set his thoughts once more on the subject of pigs and their goodness as food.

When he came down from the tree Buster stood for a few moments in an attitude of uncertainty. He thrust forward his head and tested the wind. Then slowly he began to shuffle off. Where was he going? He was headed straight back to the place he had come from. He was headed straight back toward that lone little farm. "I'm just going back to sleep in the same place I slept after my big dinner. It is one of the best sleeping places I have had in a great while," said Buster by way of excuse to himself.

Who Was Guilty

Solution of "Mr. Southby's Great Day" Mystery in Wednesday's Post-Dispatch Daily Magazine.

AS soon as the poker game was over, Moody hurried to the radio room and obtained a long piece of wire. He ran down to Griggs' cabin and tied a handkerchief to the open porthole so that he could identify it from above. He next took the wire up to the promenade deck and tied it to the outside of the rail so that it would hang down beside the fluttering handkerchief. If any one had found these curious objects his plans would have been balked, but there was little chance of his name being connected with them.

He waited for Griggs to lurch drunkenly into his cabin, and then followed him, being careful that he was not seen by any passerby. He stabbed Griggs and drew in the dangling wire and twisted it around the arm of the couch. When he went out he looked down beside the handkerchief, taking the key, and was able to return to the promenade deck without being seen. Here he untied his wire from the rail, slid the key down it into the cabin, where it slipped off to the floor, and then threw the wire into the sea. He had overlooked the gun, which made the authorities reject the idea of suicide.

Out of Date.

No pictures in the home seems to be the popular thought at the present time. However, one or two carefully selected pictures will give a homelike appearance to many rooms and some rooms really require them as a finish. In the small house, attractively framed mirrors answer the purpose better as they give an appearance of size to the small room.

Fat Comes at Forty

Fat Need Not Come

Science has found the reason why people grow fat. That reason lies largely in a defective gland. To some that trouble comes in early years, but to most people after 40.

A certain gland, which largely controls nutrition, becomes weak. Then food, which should go into fuel and energy, deposits itself in fat.

No starvation, no over-work, can rectify that condition. Both are harmful. The right remedy is to activate an under-active gland. Physicians the world over now employ it.

That is the method employed in Marmola's prescription tablets. They are based on scientific research on the causes of excess fat. A famous medical laboratory perfected them. People have used them for more than 20 years—millions of boxes of them. You can see the results in every circle—in new youth and beauty, new health and vitality.

First News Girl Is Now 85 Years Old

RAU PAULINE BATH, aged 85, is the first and oldest newspaper seller of Berlin. She recently celebrated her golden jubilee in her little stall in the busy city street known as Alt Moabit, where she has sat for 12 hours every day since October, 1878. Her reminiscences are mainly concerned with the growth of the city's street traffic.

The only thing that disturbs her contented mind is the increasing competition of other newspaper sellers in the neighborhood. "I have never asked for any public assistance in my life," she says. "All I hope is that the police won't allow any more news stands near my own."

The boxes are filled by school children all over the United States. Among the articles sent are hair ribbons, handkerchiefs, toys and games.

FASHION

Models of the Day are Often Best Ignored and Careful Attention Must Be Given to Lines and Colors.

By MADAME VALLEE.
Director and Designer of Martin et Armand. PARIS.

TOGETHER with other dress makers, I have been asked to make some Paris models of the new British silk called "chance," and as it is I who have been chosen to make a speech introducing these models when they are produced on the stage of one of London's most fashionable theatres, it has occurred to me that my American readers may like to know some of the ideas I shall present.

In the first place, fashion is made for the young, yet we must not forget the woman of 50 and over, and, although the young are those who will matter in the fashions of tomorrow, it is important to forget those who wear today.

The young girls of 18 or 20, who look delightful in anything are not clients who make a big turnover for the dressmakers. They may be lovely, but they are not even a good advertisement for dressmakers, for everybody looks at their charming faces and figures, and they have not the finished taste that comes with maturity.

The woman of 50 or over is the woman who has money to spend, and if she has the natural and human desire to retain a pleasing appearance as long as she possibly can she is a client of the greatest value to the houses she patronizes.

MAINTAIN that line is the most important factor in fashion, and it is either by luck or science a woman keeps a slim figure she can wear the same lines as the daughter or granddaughter. But she must be careful about colors. If women who have no longer even the semblance of youthfulness look ridiculous in present-day fashions it is their own fault. The line is as perfect as it has ever been in the history of costume. However, elderly women should remember that if they wear debutante shades of pink and blue they only make themselves figures of fun.

Given the necessary slim figure, a woman can wear present-day fashions at any age. But after 45 she must choose a great deal of black, browns and beige, dark navy blue and gray if she has a pretty complexion. And nothing looks more charming than a white dress with white hair for the evening.

I think I shall have one of my mannequins wear a white wig and use a make-up that gives a semblance of age in order to demonstrate what I mean. This will show that when she chooses the right colors the woman of 50 and even 60 can look not only smart but distinguished in dresses and coats cut in exactly the same lines as those in which young women look delightful in shades of red, blue and green or any bright color.

Of course, so far, I have only spoken of the slim woman of over 45, and I think I have proved my point that dressmakers neglect her far too much. The stout woman is another story. She, poor thing, must realize that certain fashions are not for her and must be left severely alone in any case whatever. It is unfortunate, but true, I must confess that Paris dress designers ignore the portly creature altogether. It is true that French women, English women and Americans seldom reach really ungraceful proportions. They lead a healthy, active life. They lead a reason why they should not be too much to help them keep their slender lines of youth, and self-control and discipline do the rest. So we feel that if a woman allows herself to get really stout it is her own fault, and she must choose what she can out of the dresses that are designed for the slim.

I do not mean to insinuate that the skeleton figure that was the rage a few seasons ago has any real charm. But the women of the moment look their best on women who have pretty natural curves. We have finished with the unhealthy flat-chested effect worn so much to achieve a false ideal of beauty. But the really stout woman should be careful what she wears. Embroidered lines that curve will suit her. But I should not advise her to choose pink georgette. Black or midnight blue will suit her better.

THERE is another point for the stout woman to remember—she must have her dresses made before. It is one of those self-evident truths that are too often ignored and upon which one cannot insist enough. Indeed, the stout woman should also bear in mind that dresses must hang and not be stretched tight across the figure.

Pretty and chic American active dress told me that she always looked her best in clothes that had been made for her mother, a woman considerably taller and larger in build than herself in every way. This, of course, is going to extremes, but I can well understand that the effect on the stage of something that hung in the graceful folds that must of necessity have existed in gowns made for a bigger woman were probably most attractive.

Strained effects are always ugly.

I must confess that Paris dress designers ignore the poor creature altogether. It is true that French women, English women and Americans seldom reach really admirable proportions. There is no reason why they should. They lead healthy, active lives. Science has done much to help them keep the slender lines of youth, and self-control and discipline do the rest, so we feel that if a woman allows herself to get really stout it is her own fault and she must choose what she can out of the dresses that are designed for the slim.

I do not mean to insinuate that the skeleton boyish figure that was the rage a few seasons ago has any real charm. The fashions of the moment look their best on women who have pretty natural curves. But I should not advise her to choose pink georgette. Black or midnight blue will suit her better.

THERE is another point for the stout woman to remember—she must have her dresses made loose. I know this has been said before, but it is one of those self-evident truths that are too often ignored and upon which one cannot insist enough. Indeed, the stout woman should also bear in mind that dresses must also be not stretched tight across the figure. A pretty and chic American actress once told me that she always looked her best in clothes that had been made for her mother, a woman considerably taller and larger in build than herself in every way. This, of course, is going to extremes, but I can well understand that the effect on the stage of something that hung in those graceful folds that must of necessity have existed in gowns made for a bigger woman were probably most attractive. Strained effects are always ugly.

This evening gown of pale green moire is draped closely round the hips, but the long side panel looped through the tunic gives a note of suppleness that is infinitely becoming.

Pale pink georgette embroidered with sparkling beads is used for this very feminine and youthful evening frock. The embroidery is cleverly worked in lines that give a slimming effect.

This coat of brown velvet shows a particularly interesting cut and the line of shirring at the head of the long panels is cleverly repeated at the top of the draped cuff. A scarf end floats from the fox collar.

Madame Vallee uses her favorite dull red crepe de chine for this delightful little afternoon frock with its amusing décolletage coming up in a point to meet the narrow scarf collar.

Variety and richness are the characteristics of the new Martial et Armand coats. This model also is made of golden brown velvet, the chic color this season, with trimmings of fox.

Black faille gives great chic to this dinner gown with a belt of lame shot with red, gold and black. The arrangement of the coquille folds at the side of the skirt gives the dress much character.

The aim of fashion is to emphasize the natural beauty of any woman's figure, and the figure of any normally built woman has a certain beauty. Obviously if she has any defects of proportion it is our business to minimize and veil them as much as possible. But whether a figure is perfect or not quite I feel it always looks better if the lines are discreetly veiled with material that flows with suppleness than if they are outlined in a hard manner by stuff that is stretched across the anatomy. Try the effect on yourselves and you will see how right I am.

When fitting new dresses women of all ages should remember that what they must aim at is a statuesque effect of flowing lines. Proportions must never be emphasized, even when they are perfect. It is better to be subtle than to thrust even beauty upon the attention.

ANOTHER point which deserves most careful study in dress is personality. I know there is nothing new in this statement, but if it were necessary to say things only once we should see nothing but beautifully dressed women in the world, and this most desirable state of affairs has not been realized, even in Paris or New York. Study the lines of your body before you order your dresses. Decide what are the lines in present fashions that will suit you best. Study your coloring and the effect of different colors on your complexion. Do not be carried away by something simply because it is new. Make up your mind before ordering it that it really suits you. Consult your saleswoman. She wants you to do the house credit when you wear its gowns. Her advice will be absolutely sincere. Women often fail to realize that a saleswoman really would prefer them to take a gown in which they will feel happy and self-satisfied than a more expensive one that really did not suit them. An expensive gown may bring a saleswoman immediate profit, but an unbecoming one may lead the client to take her future orders elsewhere.

Before I close I should like just to remind my American clients that fashion does not change as quickly as they seem to imagine. While my workrooms are so loaded with orders that they are all working at full pressure American buyers come to me and ask me if I have not got anything new. This may be very flattering, but frankly it is also a little trying. A dressmaker is not like a hen. She does not lay a new idea like an egg every day. Some buyers think I can produce 10 ideas a day. It is true that the more I work the faster inspiration comes, but it is not good for trade that fashion should change too often. The aim of good business is to satisfy its clients and women would not be pleased if they thought the gowns for which they pay so much would be out of date a few weeks hence. (Copyright, 1928.) "NERVES" Hasten the Lines of Age

Why Do Nervous Women Grow Old Faster?

In these days of strenuous life and activity, leading and successful beauty experts are laying great stress on the necessity of quiet, relaxed nerves to maintain and improve facial beauty. They all agree that the money spent in beauty parlors for treatments is wasted if your nerves are "on edge." Everyone knows that the many different nervous disorders are reflected in the facial nerves and tend to distort, mar and impair the natural calm and beauty that everyone loves to possess.

Quiet Your Nerves—This New, Delightful Way

If you are irritable, nervous, have nervous headaches, sleeplessness, simply drop a Dr. Miles' Effervescent NERVINE Tablet into a glass of water and as it bubbles up like sparkling spring water—drink it. You'll like the pleasant refreshing effect of this delightful nerve remedy. You'll be pleased at the prompt, soothing effect it will have on your distracted nerves. It is absolutely harmless.

Don't neglect your "NERVES"—they are just as important as beauty treatments and cosmetics if you want to keep your youth and charm. When you feel a nervous spell coming on, try an Effervescent NERVINE Tablet and see how easy it is to quiet your "NERVES" with this new, delightful way.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

The Post-Dispatch reserves the right to reject any query. Personal and telephone calls or answers by mail cannot be given attention, except letters on medical questions of undoubted sincerity when accompanied by stamped, addressed envelope.

E. D. AND Y. M. A.—Teachers bridge, advertising almost daily in the Post-Dispatch classified want ads under "Instruction."

CHARLES—Ask for books of formulas in the Applied Science Department of the public library. The instructions for gold plating cover several pages.

E. L. W.—Fleas and Their Control is Bulletin No. 897 of the Agricultural Department, Washington, D. C. Send for it, and write the Agricultural Department, Jefferson City, Mo., about a special problem you are not able to handle in flea infestation.

RECTOR, A. K.—Two hundred and eighty-three persons reported incomes of over a million dollars in 1927, in the United States. This is an increase of 22 over 1926. Among these, the number reporting incomes over $2,500,000 or more, however, dropped from 14 in 1926 to 10 for 1927.

OLD SUB—The word baptizo is derived directly from the Greek, baptizo (bap-tid-oh), which means to make whelmed (i. e., fully wet), and only (in the T. T.) of ceremonial ablution, especially of the sacrament of the church. The word baptizo is used in the Bible to mean to moisten as well as to baptize. "Baptizo" was not, in its literal sense, it is the word used in the translations. Matt. 3:11, "I indeed baptize with water, but he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost," also, 1 Cor. 10:2.

LEGAL INFORMATION

(By a Member of the St. Louis Bar Association)

W. T. P.—Apply to the Board of Engineers' Examiners, room 401, City Hall, for full information as to holding engineers' examinations.

ANDY A.—You can apply to the Circuit Court for an order changing your name. Consult a lawyer who will change the name for you.

FLORENCE—The primary election in which candidates for Mayor of St. Louis are nominated will be held in March, in 1933, and the election itself in April.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS

Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnosis or treatment of individual cases will not be given.

WORRIED—Tincture of benzoin, four drams; prepared chalk, one ounce; glycerin, one ounce; alcohol, one ounce; mix the last three ingredients thoroughly, and then add the benzoin gradually until it is thoroughly incorporated. Apply cloths wrung out of hot water for 10 to 15 minutes on the flesh which shows the blue spots after abrasions have healed. Then apply the above formula, with gentle friction, in repeat night and morning.

CONSTANT READER—You do not say whether you are a beginner at skating or have developed a weakness of ankles after some time. It might be well to get the opinion of skating teachers as to whether or not you are having any unusual difficulty. The proper lacing and padding of skating shoes may take care of the trouble for beginners. Different appliances are used for strengthening weak ankles, such as braces, bandages, high laced shoes. The kind likely to give you relief and security could be told by dealers in these appliances as sold at surgical instrument stores. If you visit the Melvin Orthopedic Sanatorium, 915 Aubert avenue, you will be advised.

MORAN AND MACK.

Moran: For the LAST time I'm askin' you for them ten dollars.

Mack: You certainly is tough.

Moran: How come, Big Boy?

Mack: You'd give a man a SNOWBALL for Christmas and want it back on the FOURTH OF JULY.

Moran: I'm only askin' for what's mine, isn't it?

Mack: Is you askin' me, isn't you, ain't you, or is you askin' me ain't you, isn't you?

Moran: I don't know about them ain'ts and isn'ts. All I know is that you got me to invest ten dollars in one of them tickers and all I got was five cents worth of paper ribbon.

Mack: Well, you is a big man now.

Moran: Is I a Head Man, like you?

Mack: No, you ain't a Head Man. That's a Class A man.

Moran: Is I Class B, then?

Mack: No, you isn't Class B.

Moran: Is I Class M?

Mack: I'm sorry, George. The more I looks at you, the more I realizes that you ain't even IN the alphabet.
